CRIME WAVE IS AHEAD OF TIME

Robbers Swoop Down on Chicago in Most Amazing Variety.

GIVE POLICE VERY MERRY TIME OF IT

Loot in Scores of Cases Ranges from Jewelry to Trained Donkey.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Hold-up men and robbers of nearly every variety known to the police became extremely active in Chicago last night and early today, more than a month in advance of the usual fall outbreak of lawlessness of this city.

They kept the police and detective departments on the jump for a straight twelve hours. Scores of robberies were reported at police headquarters, where officials were puzzled by what they termed an "out of season crime wave."

Mr. and Mrs. Mortz Weickert were attacked by automobile bandits near the Weickert residence on the north side. One of the thugs attempted to chloroform Mrs. Weickert while a second held a revolver at her husband's head. Weickert grappled with his assailant and Mrs. Weickert screamed. An approaching street car frightened the bandits, who escaped in a large automobile. This occurred in the same neighborhood where Mrs. Edmund Kaufmann was killed in a similar occurrence early this year.

Advised Victim to Yell.

Four robbers rode around the city from north to the south side and then onto the west side in a large red racing car. After robbing Roy Harding of $200 and jewelry, on West Jackson boulevard, one of the robbers said:

"Now yell your head off and relieve your feelings. We can beat anything on wheels in this town."

G. Minnick, of Galesburg, Ill., was held up and robbed of fifty dollars at Thirty-first street and Cottage Grove avenue by two women armed with revolvers. Minnick said he at first thought the young women were trying to flirt with him.

Robbers who knocked down Samuel Rubin near his home on the southside took one dollar from him and missed $600 in bills which Rubin was carrying in a vest pocket.

Porch climbers, who ransacked the residence of A. K. Carr, in Englewood, also took a trained donkey from Carr's stable. When pursued the robbers placed the donkey in the tonneau of a large automobile, together with several sacks of plunder, and escaped.

SIX BADLY HURT IN B. & O. WRECK

One Victim Woman Returning With Corpse of Her Husband.

A REAR END CRASH

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 24.—Six persons were seriously hurt today when the Chicago express on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad crashed into the rear of a passenger train standing on a switch track at Benwood Junction. The injured were taken to a North Wheeling hospital. They are:

Carl and Claude Coffman, Fairmount, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. George Duncan, Woodstock, Va.; John Modi Manning-ton, and Charles Foster, Bellaire, O.

Among the persons reported seriously injured at the hospital was Mrs. Charles Johnson, who was returning to her home in Martins Ferry, O., with the body of her husband. He had died in Alabama.

WILSON GOES HOME TO VOTE

Cheering Students in Yellow "Slickers" Meet Nominee at Princeton.

GIVES TALK FROM STEPS OF CHURCH

New Jersey Primary is Test of Governor's Hold on Party There.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 24.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson came home today for the first time since he became the presidential nominee of the democratic party. Escorted by a procession of students in yellow "slickers," the former president of Princeton university rode in an automobile through Nassau street, while the students cheered. The governor went to a booth and voted for Wm. Hughes, who is a candidate at today's primary election for the democratic endorsement for United States senator against former Senator James Smith, jr.

"Its against the law to have a crowd at the polls," said the governor to the students who had followed as he came out of the voting booth, "so if you will give up several hundred feet I'll make a speech."

The students obeyed and the governor mounted the steps of a church and talked about the bosses and the trusts.

Talks on the Boss.

"The boss merely as a political organizer," the governor said, "is not dangerous, merely as a manager who commands the organization and gets out the vote on polling day he is not to be feared and he is an almost necessary instrument of politics, but the man we call boss is the agent of those who wish to control politics in their own interest.

"I have know some of these gentlemen personally and I know exactly how they work. They haven't any politics at all, that is the point, and there is no difference between a democratic boss and a republican boss, because neither of them is working for the party. They are both working for their clients, and their clients' big business."

The governor spoke of the proposal of third party to regulate trusts by means of an industrial commission and continued:

"I don't want to regulate trusts. I want to put them on their mettle. I want to see that they can't put anybody out of business except by doing business better than anybody else. I don't want to squeeze the water out of their stocks. I want to put the water in a tank on their backs and see if they can carry that water as against the men who are doing business without any water on their backs."

Tests Hold on Party.

Governor Wilson's hold upon his party in New Jersey will be tested in today's primary contest for the democratic nomination for United States senator to succeed Frank O. Briggs, republican, whose term expires next March. The governor's choice, Representative William Hughes, of Paterson, is opposed by former Senator James Smith, jr., of Newark, whose candidacy for the office met defeat less than two years ago because of Governor Wilson's opposition. This year Gov. Wilson has opposed Mr. Smith in his speeches and statements addressed to the voters of the democratic party.

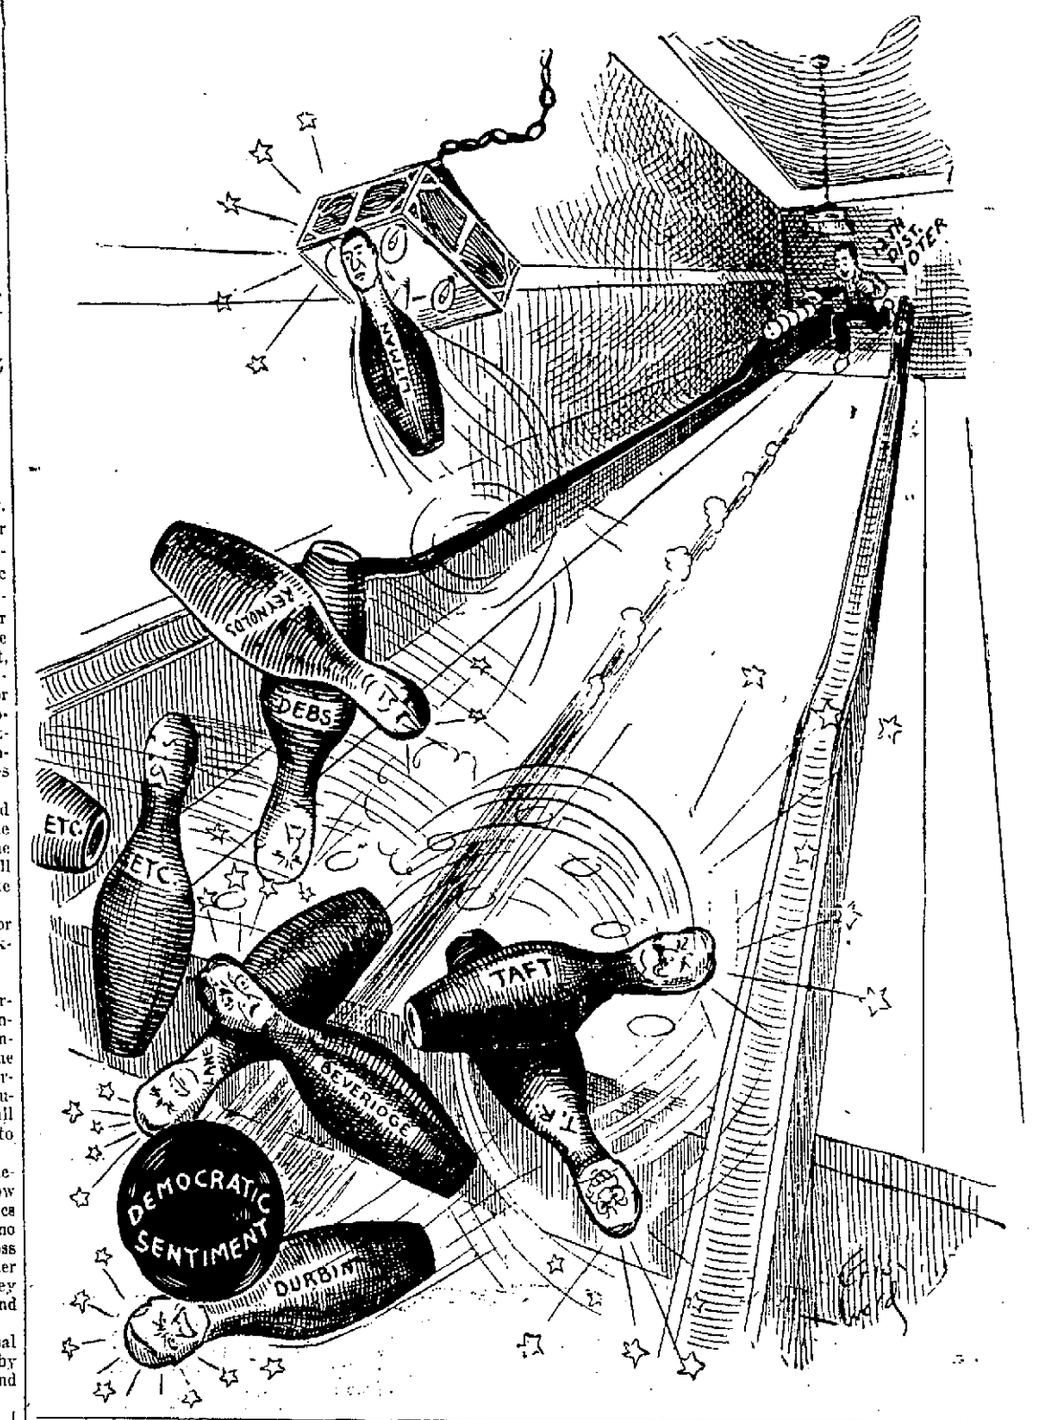
WOMAN STEPS IN FRONT OF CAR TO END HER LIFE.

Greencastle, Ind., Sept. 24.—An unidentified woman was killed today near Clayton. She was about forty years old. She was walking along the interurban track and as the car approached she stepped to a cattle guard. It is supposed she contemplated ending her life and took this method. The body was taken to Plainfield.

Out of Practice? Well, I Guess Not!



MARINES GO TO SANTO DOMINGO

Taft Authorizes Sending of 750 Men to New Zone of Trouble.

REVOLT IS SPREADING

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 24.—After a conference with President Taft on his private car enroute to New York today Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop announced that a force of 750 United States marines will be despatched to Santo Domingo.

The marines will take charge of the custom houses of the republic, endangered by the present revolution, which are under United States supervision by the terms of the convention.

The marines will sai from Philadelphia on the Transport Prairie late in the week. Col. F. J. Moses probably will command the detachment and Brig. General McIntyre, chief o fthe bureau of insular affairs and W. T. F. Doyle of the Latin-American division will also sail on the Prarie.

Although no definite plans were made by the president and Mr. Winthrop at their conference today the troops will probably be split into small bodies so that the customs of the whole San Domingo republic will be watched closely.

The authority to dispatch marines was given by President Taft when he learned that the situation in Santo Domingo has grown worse in the last few days and the revolution is spreading. There is no United States force in the republic now, but the gunboat Wheeling is in Santo Dominican waters. It is not expected that the Wheeling will land bluejackets, but the authorities will await the arrival of the Prairie.

H. B. Holloway, of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. S. E. Hamlett, of 505 West Main street.

TWO TOLEDO MEN HAVE LONG WALK FOR NAUGHT.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—R. Clair Cann and Hawthorne Ellis, two young Toledo men, who set out July 2 on a lake to the gulf walk to win a wager, have arrived here, but they gained only a bit of experience, because the man who made the wager, according to their story, died while they were en route. Upon their arrival they presented to Mayor Behrman a letter from Mayor Whitlock.

PERKINS WANTS HILLES CALLED

Asks Republican Chairman to Testify as to Charge Against Roosevelt.

WILL GET A CHANCE

Washington, Sept. 24.—Senator Clapp has received a letter from George W. Perkins asking that Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the republican national committee, be called before the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, to testify fully as to his charge "that Col. Roosevelt had spent millions of dollars of harvester trust money."

Senator Clapp today stated that Mr. Hilles undoubtedly would be called before the committee, but would be questioned not alone upon that reported statement, but upon the general subject of campaign contributions. A plan for the opening of next week's hearings was outlined by Senator Clapp for presentation to the full committee when it meets. The first witness probably will be Cornelius N. Bliss, jr., and the second C. C. Tegethoff, private secretary to the late Edward H. Harriman. These two men will be called upon to produce any papers belonging to the estates respectively of Cornelius N. Bliss and Mr. Harriman that might throw light on the charges made by John D. Archbold that the Standard Oil company had been asked to contribute to the Roosevelt fund of 1904.

Former Speaker Cannon and Representatives McKinley, of Illinois, and Weeks, of Massachusetts, will be asked to testify in connection with the probe into alleged campaign contributions by protected interests prior to the tariff sessions of 1904.

Telegrams received today from New York, signed by members of the National Retail Tobacco Dealers' association, demanded of Chairman Clapp an investigation of the relation of the American Tobacco company to campaign funds of recent years. The retailers asked that the senate committee investigate the affairs of the so-called tobacco trust and of the large individual companies, to determine whether they had contributed to presidential or congressional campaigns.

NATHAN STRAUS DECLINES.

Refuses Nomination Because Brother Is On Another Ticket.

New York, Sept. 24.—Nathan Straus has informed the democratic state committee that he could not be a candidate for presidential elector. He wrote:

"On account of my brother having been unexpectedly nominated on the progressive ticket it would not do for my name to appear on another. I trust you will appreciate my position and accept my apologies for any inconveniences I may be causing."

URGES SCRUTINY OF POORHOUSES

Toledo Woman at Charities Conference Assails the Present Methods.

SEES MARKED ABUSE

Washington, Sept. 24.—Dr. Helen M. Nolan, of Toledo, at the national conference of Catholic charities today made a plea for closer scrutiny of boards and committees disbursing public funds to the poor. Inmates of poor houses, usually, she declared, were permitted to die "like animals without summoning priest or clergyman." Grave abuses in expending funds, she said, demanded the attention of voters.

Mrs. Edward Mandel, secretary of the association of Catholic charities, declared protestant relief organizations were striving to win immigrants from the Catholic church. Non-sectarian social service organizations, she said, interested themselves in Italian Catholic immigrant children to the extent of removing them from home influences and placing them under protestant tutelage. She spoke of activity of Y. M. C. A. agents at immigrant stations abroad and declared there was need for activity by Catholics among Catholic immigrants.

Richard M. Daley, of Harrisburg, Pa., spoke on the newly created federal children's bureau. While he approved the aims of the bureau, as laid down in the act which authorized it, he declared the government's work among children should be confined to conservation and recreation.

"The radicalism which would make the child the creature of the state and invade the sacred rights of parenthood must be vigorously combatted," he declared.

FORMER ELKHART MEN PLAN DOUBLE WEDDING.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 24.—Meeting today for the first time in fifteen years and learning that they are engaged to marry sisters is the experience of J. Mayer, of New York, and W. B. Smith, of Chicago, traveling salesmen.

The men met in a hotel by chance and began to talk over old times in Elkhart, Ind., where they separated after leaving school. Mr. Smith volunteered the information that he was betrothed and Mr. Mayer said he was too. It soon developed that they were to marry sisters in Elkhart.

"Let's make a double wedding," suggested Mr. Mayer.

"All right," said Mr. Smith.

NOTED GERMAN DIPLOMAT DIES

Baron von Bieberstein Succumbs After a Very Brief Illness.

KNOWN AS STRONG MAN OF GERMANY

Brilliant Figure Stepped Into Shoes of Bismarck as Latter Retired.

BadenWeiler, Baden, Germany, Sept. 24.—Germany's most brilliant diplomat, Baron Adolf Marschal von Bieberstein, aged 70, died here today after a short illness.

The baron, who had occupied the position of German ambassador in London only since May this year, had come here to take a course of alkaline water treatment and was in comparatively good health until a week ago. Then he suddenly fell ill and rapidly became worse until he died today.

Baron Marschal von Bieberstein was regarded as one of the most accomplished diplomats of his time, and since the death of Bismarck, he had been considered as Germany's strong man.

The baron, in fact, stepped into the shoes of Bismarck when the latter left office in 1890, becoming on April 1 of that year secretary of state of foreign affairs. During his term of office he conducted the negotiations with many foreign powers commercial treaties which have been in force ever since with few modifications. In 1894 he became Prussian minister of state and three years later the emperor, recognizing his abilities as a statesman, appointed him ambassador to Turkey. He remained at Constantinople over fourteen years, but was often called to Berlin to confer with the emperor not only in regard to Turkish affairs, but in connection with Germany's general foreign policy as well. It was often hinted that the baron practically controlled the emperor's entire foreign policy.

When the baron was nominated for the embassy in London early this year it was reported that he was to endeavor to bring about an understanding between the two great rivals, Germany and Great Britain. If this was his aim, the new ambassador had little opportunity to attain it, for the three months that intervened from the date of his appointment and his death scarcely sufficed for establishing himself in his new surroundings.

WOMAN'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

Case of Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray Goes Over Until Tomorrow.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray of St. Paul, Minn., an investigator of Crow Indian affairs, charged with concealing public records, was arraigned before a United States commissioner today and her trial was postponed until tomorrow. Mrs. Gray was alleged to have taken the allotment roll of the Crow tribe from the Indian office. It was discovered in the department of justice after her arrest.

THE PREVAILING STYLE IN KANSAS CAMPAIGNING.

Pittsburg, Kan., Sept. 24.—"Gentlemen burglars or highwaymen," were declared "much more honorable" than the Roosevelt men in Kansas by John Maynard Harlan, who, with J. Adam Bede, spoke here today. Both men, who are "trailing" Col. Roocevelt, were bitter in their denunciation of the progressive party leader.

Harlan especially denounced Wm. Allen White for his threat to keep the Roosevelt electors on the republican ticket if the Taft men attempted to harrass the progesives.

LABOR TO ASK FOR NEW LAWS

Indiana Program Outlined by President Perkins in Address.

COMPENSATION IS MOST IMPORTANT

State Federation Session Takes Up Its Work at Richmond.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 24.—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Indiana State Federation of Labor began here today and will last three days. Officers will be elected Thursday and a very strong fight is being waged between Edgar A. Perkins, now president, and Henry Friedman for the presidency.

The greater part of the morning was taken up with a welcome to the delegates and in the afternoon the delegates led a short parade about the city. This evening there will be a theater party and tomorrow afternoon the visitors will be taken on a sight seeing tour over the city and in the evening a banquet will be given them.

President Perkins, in his annual address, called attention to the fact that the Indiana federation is the oldest in point of continuous existence in the United States.

"Others there were," said Mr. Perkins, "that were formed before the Indiana organization, but they, through one cause or another, disappeared. This organization, however, has withstood the causes that proved disruption elsewhere."

Praises Factory Inspection.

President Perkins complimented the state factory inspection department and declared that it has proved its efficiency under the new law.

He insisted that more inspectors are needed and said the federation would demand the appointment of more inspectors, including several women to insure the absolute enforcement of the law.

Mr. Perkins suggested that bills on these subjects be introduced at the next session of the general assembly: A bill regulating women's work, a bill restricting the use of the writ of injunction in labor disputes and legalizing trade unions, a bill providing for expert shot firers in coal mines, a bill providing for sanitary regulations in foundries. Mr. Perkins declared that the principal legislation of interest to labor before the next general assembly will be that of workmen's compensation.

COLONEL HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Grand Stand at Tulsa, Okla., Collapses as Roosevelt Leaves It.

RUNS BACK TO HELP

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 24.—Several men were thrown down in the collapse of the grand stand from which Colonel Roosevelt spoke here today and the colonel himself narrowly escaped. No one was injured seriously however.

Col. Roosevelt reached Tulsa at 7 o'clock and found a large crowd awaiting him. He went to the platform of his car to speak, but was told that another crowd had gathered in the jublir square. He shouldered his way through the throng to the grand stand. There he talked 15 minutes and had just stepped from the stand to return to his car when the structure gave way.

WIVES OF GUNMEN IN ROSENTHAL CASE IN NEW YORK REMAIN LOYAL TO HUSBANDS

MRS. HARRY HAROWITZ, wife of "Gyp the Blood," one of the alleged murderers of Gambler Rosenthal; she is expected to aid in her husband's defense by testifying for him.

MRS. LOUIS ROSENBERG, Wife of "Lefty Louie," another of the Rosenthal alleged murderers, who also remains loyal to her husband.

A New Kind

A LADY customer entered the Boston store the other day and, after looking around a bit to determine the location of the department for which she was in need, approached the counter over which Miss Anna Allen presides.

"Have you any dome-stick needles?" asked the customer.

The stock at the Boston store is varied, and sometimes it requires a few seconds to determine just where certain lines of goods are to be found. So Miss Allen put on her thinking cap in a strenuous effort to figure out what the customer wanted and whether or not the want could be satisfied.

"Please tell me again what you want," said Miss Allen, after a fruitless period of thinking.

"I want some dome-stick needles," responded the customer.

"Dome-stick needles," mused Miss Allen, meditatively. "I don't believe I ever heard of them. What are they used for?"

"They're used in a sewing machine."

"Would you please spell the word?" asked the still-puzzled saleslady.

"Certainly," responded the customer. "D-O-M-E-S-T-I-C, dome-stick."

Then the want was supplied without delay, but it was a good deal more difficult for the saleslady to keep her face straight as she handed over the package and the change and said, "Thank you; come again, please."

"What are they used for?"

ST. JOE TOWNSHIP FARMER IS DEAD

James Craig Dies Suddenly at His Home North of the City.

THE OTHER DEATHS

James Craig, aged 52 years, a prominent farmer of St. Joseph township, died suddenly at 9:30 o'clock Monday evening at his home, three and one-half miles north of the city. Death was due to apoplexy. Mr. Craig was stricken while working about the yard of his residence. Samuel Hyndman, a brother-in-law, saw Mr. Craig seated on a bench, apparently suffering great pain. He carried the stricken man to the house and summoned medical aid, but death came within a short time.

Mr. Craig was born in Ireland and came to this country about thirty years ago. Four years later he came to Allen county and settled on the farm north of the city. Soon after his arrival here he was married to Miss Elizabeth Hyndman. Surviving he leaves the widow and three sons—Nelson and Joseph Craig, who live at home, and John H. Craig, a clerk in the postoffice.

The remains have been brought to the home of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret H. Sprandle, 221 East Wayne street, where funeral services will be held at a time to be announced later.

PANAMA CANAL TO WORK A HARDSHIP

On the Mississippi Valley Without Big Inland Waterway.

SAYS MR. KAVANAUGH

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 24.—When the 1912 convention of the Lakes to Gulf Deep Waterways association convened here today Col. E. S. Conway of Chicago was in the chair, the association's president, Wm. K. Kavanaugh, of St. Louis, being unable to reach Little Rock.

The opening of the Panama canal will work hardships on the people of the Mississippi valley unless the lakes-to-the-gulf deep waterway project is carried through, according to President William K. Kavanaugh of the Lakes-to-the Gulf Deep Waterway association, whose speech was read today before the annual convention.

"This association has evolved the slogans that river regulation is rate regulation for transportation. Another truth, self-evident, then naturally follows, that river regulation is price regulation. Thus we reach the very depths of the problem, the cost of living.

"Our leading engineers have already told us that it is easily possible to secure a preliminary depth from the lakes to the gulf of at least 14 feet, and our consulting engineer, Lyman E. Cooley, says that a 21-foot channel can be had from the gulf of the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico, 3,500 miles, for less than the cost of the Panama canal. Such a channel would mean that the ships of commerce could sail down the Gulf of St. Lawrence through the Great Lakes, through Chicago and St. Louis down the Mississippi river, through New Orleans to the Gulf of Mexico. The value of the Panama canal is a mere bagatelle compared to this project.

"It is essentially fitting now that the Panama canal is being completed, that the eyes of the people of this country be focused upon the lakes-to-the-gulf deep water project. Indeed, I do not believe that the Panama canal will be of that benefit to the people of the United States that its cost would indicate unless this deep waterway project is successfully and quickly completed. It has even been asserted that without the completion of this deep waterway system th e Panama canal might even be a detriment to the people living far inland along the Mississippi valley. To them the cost of the necessities of life would be so much greater than the cost of living along the seacoast that the canal would prove an injustice to all inland dwellers. The people who dwell within the confines of this valley know the underlying truths of what I have asserted, and they want this project completed."

The attendance at the opening session was taken as an indication that advocates of a deeper channel in the Mississippi river were prepared to continue the propaganda. The convention will come to an end Thursday night. Col. Roosevelt will be the principal speaker at tomorrow's session.

Compensation Law Certain.

"That a compensation law," he said, "will eventually be passed in this state is beyond doubt. With what that law is going to be we should have much, if not all to say.

"Employers' associations have given much of their time and, judged by the elaborateness of their reports, considerable o ftheir money to an endeavor to secure the best for themselves. It is fair to presume that the large part of organized labor is favorable to the passage of a compensation law. Yet we should plant ourselves firmly on the proposition that we want no compensation law that contemplates a repeal of the two liability laws passed at the last session.

"That an effort is to be made to repeal these laws is no secret. The attempt will be either to repeal them outright or to emasculate them through amendments. The best recommendation for their retention is the opposition of those that find their operation onerous. And we should be careful that we are not beguiled into a loss of these excellent measures through substitution of an experimental compensation law. We want compensation, possibly, or at least we think we want it, and as everybody's doing it, we most likely will fall in line."

Persa Bell on Committee.

Charles Fox, of Terre Haute, first vice president and chairman of the auditing committee, reported that he had examined the books of the secretary-treasurer and found the total receipts were $865.96, the expenditures were $624.33, leaving a balance of $412.70 in the treasury on June 1 of this year.

After the reports and addresses President Perkins appointed the following committee on credentials: James Twyman, electrotypers, Indianapolis; George Greenleaf, machinists, Terre Haute; A. Eshelman, Central Labor union, Elkhart; Wm. Houston, district 11, mine workers, Terre Haute; Persa Bell, typographical union, Fort Wayne.

The cities that are asking for the meeting of the convention are Fort Wayne, Logansport, Terre Haute and Anderson.

BUDGET IS NOT SETTLED.

Another Fight Will Be Made to Raise Pay of Firemen.

That all the members of the council will not sign the report on the annual appropriations and levy tonight before the regular meeting of the body, is practically sure. There is still a disposition in some quarters to increase the pay of the firemen and a determined effort to do this will be made at the expense of the track elevation levy which it is proposed to cut.

The members of Phoenix lodge No. 161 enjoyed a spread after initiating a class of candidates last night.

Judge William Erwin, of Bourbon, Ind., has been brought to Hope hospital for treatment.

DOUGHERTY NOW UNDER NEW BOND

Peoria Man Paroled from Prison Faces Another Grist of Charges.

HABEAS CORPUS PLEA

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Newton C. Dougherty, former superintendent of the Peoria, Ill., schools who recently was paroled from the Joliet penitentiary after serving six years for embezzlement of school funds, was taken into custody here today in fifteen indictments returned yesterday at Peoria.

They Embody 645 Counts.

A deputy sheriff served Dougherty with a copias. As soon as this had been read an attorney went before Judge Foell and applied for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was made returnable forthwith and Dougherty was arraigned.

Judge Foell continued the hearing until October 7 and released Dougherty on a bond of $5,000. In his petition for the habeas corpus Dougherty asserted that already he had served a sentence on conviction of embezzlement charges and therefore the new indictments against him are void.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

An excellent supper was served by Miss Edna's mother, Mrs. Fred Landenberger, and Pauline Pohlmeyer. The boys and girls present were Virginia Meyer, Linda Rose, Lillian Pohlmeyer, Hulda Tilker, Loretta Klaehn, Gwendolyn Stuart, Helen Sensenv, Marie Hobrock, Jessie Gifford, Grace Kennelly, Annadale Curtes, Herbert Rust, Herbert Rippe, Frank Hobrock, Herbert Linnemeyer, Walter Becker, Conrad Moll, Albert Gregold, Irvine Rump, Edgar Hamlett, Paul Kerby and Godfrey Erdmann.

Ran Back to Aid Them.

A dozen men, most of them army veterans, who were in the stand were thrown to the ground. Col. Roosevelt ran back to assist the men who had fallen. He saw that no one had been hurt and held the crowd back with a wave of his hand.

"It's all right," he shouted. There was intense excitement but he quieted the crowd.

Col. Roosevelt appealed to the democrats of the south to stand with the progressive party, which he said is in no way a sectional party and makes its appeal equally to all sections of the country.

Coming Back to Indiana.

Plans for the remainder of Col. Roosevelt's campaign have been mapped out tentatively. The colonel will remain at home from Wednesday of next week until the following Monday, except for a trip to Washington on Friday to testify before the senate committee which is investigating campaign contributions. Then begins a journey of ten days into the middlewest. He will take his campaign into Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin and on the way back probably will spend two days in Pennsylvania. After a brief rest he is to go to New England for a week. The closing days of the campaign are to be spent in New York State.

WOMEN IN FOREFRONT.

Ladies Lead Welcome to Roosevelt in Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 24.—When Col. Roosevelt reached Oklahoma City he penetrated a struggling, cheering crowd, finally reached his automobile and then began a parade through the streets. Women of Oklahoma City were in the forefront. They waved flags and bandanas and joined in the scrimmage with the men to shake hands with Col. Roosevelt. Representatives of the Women's Roosevelt club filled a car on the special train which was run from Tulsa to Oklahoma City. Col. Roosevelt visited the car on the way and was surrounded by the feminine campaigners, some of whom told him they had taken the stump for the progressive ticket.

JUDGE DECLINES TO MAKE CHANGE

Says Diederich Brandt Was Right in Handling the Estate.

RUSH OF DIVORCES

At the close of a long hearing in the circuit court today Judge O'Rourke declined to set aside the appointment of Diederich Brandt as administrator of the estate of William C. Brandt or to set aside a sale of real estate made to a son of the administrator.

William C. Brandt died in Tennessee and his body was brought here by the brother, who qualified as administrator, sold the property and placed the money over and above the debts in the hands of the circuit court clerk. Sons of the testator heard of his death and made the claim that the property was sold for less than its real value and wanted the sale set aside.

There was a rush early this afternoon of divorce cases in the circuit court in the course of which Elsie M. Whitney got a decree from George B. Whitney and was given the custody of their two children on the ground of failure to provide.

Bessie Batson was next and she got a decree from Winford Batson, alleging that he left her, went to Chicago, declined to provide for her and on Saturday came and got his belongings and announced he was going west.

Minnie Seitz wants a divorce from Warren Seitz and filed the suit in the circuit court this afternoon. She charges that he cursed her, beat her, called her names too foul to put in a divorce complaint and failed to provide. McAdams & Hartzell represent her.

PUTS BLAME ON CONGRESS.

Without Expense Money, Col. Gorgas is Absent From Convention.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Col. W. C. Gorgas, the man who made the Panama canal zone habitable was scheduled today to tell the fifteenth international congress on hygiene and demography how it was done but at the last moment word was received that as the United States congress at its last session had refused to appropriate money for traveling expenses for the colonel and other officers, the address could not be delivered.

Dr. H. H. Hart of New York City, told the congress there were no reliable mortality statistics in New York in regard to deaths of babies taken to various institutions. At some places, he declared, little attention was paid to some of the children taken in the expectation being that they would die any way. Dr. A. Jacobi, president of the American Medical association, reported having made a recent study of breast feeding for infants as compared with artifical feeding. In the former case the mortality was 7 per cent. while in the latter it was from 19 to 22 per cent., he declared.

INDIANA MAN IS SENT TO DEATH

Chester Jordan Pays Penalty for Wife Murder in Boston.

CRIME WAS OLD ONE

Boston, Sept. 24.—Chester S. Jordan, sentenced to death for the murder four years ago at Somerville, of his wife, Honorah, whose body he cut up and packed in a trunk, was executed in the electric chair at the Charlestown state prison this morning at 12:14:30 o'clock.

A suspicious cab man was responsible for the discovery of the murder of Mrs. Chester S. Jordan, for which Jordan was executed this morning. The murder was committed at their apartments in Somerville Sept. 1, 1908. During a quarrel with his young wife, an actress, Jordan struck her and knocked her down a stairway. The next day he dismembered the body and placed the head and some other parts in a stove in an unsuccessful attempt to burn them and packed the remainder of the body in a trunk. His actions in driving about the city with the trunk aroused the suspicions of his cab driver, who reported to the police that he believed his passenger had stolen the trunk.

Jordan was born 33 years ago in Indianapolis, Ind., and while on the stage married Honorah O'Reilley, known in vaudeville as Irene Shannon. Jordan was brought to trial on April 20, 1909, and found guilty of murder in the first degree May 4, 1909. Four days later one of the jury became insane and was committed to an asylum. The state supreme court refused to grant an appeal for a new trial and Jordan was sentenced to die during the week of March 12, 1911. A writ of error being granted, an appeal from the decision of the state court was taken to the United States supreme court, but the appeal was denied May 27, 1912, and nearly four years after the commission of the crime Jordan was sentenced a second time to die.

IN THE CHURCHES

NEWSPAPER MEN AND CITY PASTORS

Meeting Held at Which Co-operation in City Effort Was Urged.

BANQUET BY PASTORS

A most helpful and instructive meeting of the newspaper proprietors of the city with the members of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association was held last evening at the First Baptist church, the occasion being the first meeting of the season of the association, and the newspaper men being present by special invitation. The purpose of the conference was to talk over matters and things that might be helpful to Fort Wayne and secure a co-operation of effort to bring such a result.

The newspapers were represented as follows: the Journal-Gazette by A. J. Moynihan; the Abendpost by Anselm Fuelber; the Freie-Presse by Hermann Mackwitz; the Sentinel by E. A. K. Hackett. Presiding at the meeting was the president of the association, Rev. Edward Montgomery, who in the discussions held turned the session over to Rev. E. W. Averill, he having charge of the evening program.

The Rev. E. M. Todd began the discussion and spoke of the co-operation in work of the pulpit and the press, showing how they could work together to the accomplishment of good. The first speaker following was E. A. K. Hackett, and then came Hermann Mackwitz, of the Freie-Presse, who brought out a number of good thoughts in reference to an improvement of conditions in Fort Wayne. He was followed by Anselm Fuelber, of the Abendpost, who compared conditions here with those in Germany. The remarks of both were helpful.

The closing remarks on the part of the newspaper men were made by A. J. Moynihan, of the Journal-Gazette. He presented moral conditions in Fort Wayne in a most interesting manner and gave some facts and suggestions that would prove helpful in the way of bringing about reforms. His remarks showed clearly that he had given the subject of city betterment much consideration.

In his address the Rev. Mr. Averill suggested that the city purchase the property on the jail flats and erect there a large auditorium where public lectures and band concerts might be given from time to time, declaring this to be one of the most desirable means of fighting vice of all forms, and thus aiding in the great work of God.

A communication from Mrs. I. N. Taylor, of the Woman's Club league, to the ministerial association was read yesterday. Mrs. Taylor, on behalf of the league, pledged the support of that organization to all endeavors of the ministerial association to continue the work of community betterment.

The meeting was an interesting and profitable one both to the pastors and members of the press and the hope is that great good will come from it. At its close the ladies of the First Baptist church served refreshments.

SUGAR BEET CROP A RECORD BREAKER

Harvest Now in Progress Shows Up Great for Northwestern Ohio Field.

Paulding, O., Sept. 24.—The sugar beet crop is northwestern Ohio this year is reported as the greatest in this section of the state. The acreage was exceptionally large and the beets have grown wonderfully because of the damp summer. The Paulding sugar factory is now running full force and the beets are being shipped into it from all nearby towns.

Several hundred acres of beets were planted in Bryan territory and are being harvested. At Hicksville the shipments are growing so large that the B. & O. railroad is contemplating building a special loading track for beet shippers.

Northwestern Ohio is rapidly becoming a great beet raising section. With the factories at Paulding and Fremont another just completed at Findlay, another building at Ottawa, while two immense plants are under construction at Toledo, and a big one in operation at Blissfield, Mich., just across the state line, there is a good market for the beets.

Bluffton Company Made Voluntary Raise of 15 Per Cent.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 24.—The Boss Manufacturing company has announced an increase in the wage schedule to the girls employed in the making of mittens and gloves on the piece plan, the increase amounting to about 15 per cent. The raise was made voluntarily by the company.

The company now has about one hundred girls on the payroll, and would double the number if the girls could be secured. In their raise in prices the company increased the schedule on one kind of glove from 9 and one-half cents to 14¼ cents per dozen and on another kind from 10 cents to 11¼ cents.

The employment for girls in Bluffton at the present time exceeds the supply, and the local factories employing this class of labor are endeavoring to interest girls from the country and nearby small towns where girls may reach this city by traction morning and evening.

USED KEROSENE TO START FIRE

Explosion Followed and Angola Husband and Wife, Horribly Burned, Are Dead.

Angola, Ind., Sept. 24.—Christian Cole, of this city, and his wife, a bride of but a few months, are dead as the result of a kerosene explosion in the kitchen stove at their residence on North Wayne street yesterday. Mr. Cole died at noon on Monday and Mrs. Cole died during the afternoon, both as the result of the horrible burns received in the fire following the explosion. Mrs. Butcher, the mother of Mrs. Cole, also suffered burns, but her injuries, which are about the neck and arms, are not of a dangerous nature.

The fatal accident was caused by the attempt on the part of Mr. Cole, early in the morning, to start a fire in the kitchen range. He poured kerosene on some live coals in the stove and immediately an explosion followed and his clothing became a mass of flames. In his efforts to secure a blanket to extinguish the flames he rushed to the bedroom where his wife was in bed and the bedding and the clothes of Mrs. Cole caught fire. Mrs. Butcher, hearing the screams of her daughter, rushed down stairs and attempted to smother the flames with a comfort and then Charles Gaskill, a neighbor, came to the rescue, who finally succeeded in getting the victims out of the house, both horribly burned about their bodies and the flesh peeling from their limbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole, suffering intensely, were carried to the home of a neighbor and afterwards to the hospital of Dr. Wood, where their death occurred.

A fire alarm was turned in a short time after the accident happened and the department hurried to the scene, and in a short time succeeded in extinguishing the flames, which had gained some headway in the building.

When the case of Isaac Williamson et al. vs. Andrew Gottschalk, executor of the will of William Schwartz, to contest said will, was called for trial in the circuit court yesterday noon before Special Judge Heaton, of Fort Wayne, the plaintiffs filed a second paragraph of complaint, and made Amos Reusser, of Berne, also a defendant. The writ was issued returnable October 5, and the trial postponed at the cost of the plaintiffs. Schwartz left a will in which none of his heirs was named, but left his entire estate, valued at $16,000, to be held in trust by Gottschalk, executor, until the Berne citizens raised an equal sum, all of which was to go to a hospital fund for Berne. The plaintiffs claim Schwartz was of unsound mind when he executed the deed, and that Amos Reusser, his family physician, who witnessed the will, brought about undue influence in the execution thereof on account of the physical and mental condition of the testator.

KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERM; STOPS FALLING HAIR

Others Imitate and Make Similar Claims, but the Genuine and Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer is Newbro's Herpicide.

The discovery of the dandruff germ as the cause of all hair troubles is not a recent event. Prof. Unna gave the germ theory to the world in 1887 and two years later Sabouraud by his experiments with a rabbit proved beyond a doubt the actual existence of this germ.

On the heels of this establishment of the germ theory came the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide. This was the first and only remedy for the destruction of the dandruff germ.

There have been other preparations alleged to kill this germ, stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. But Newbro's Herpicide really does these things. For this reason it has long been known as the original remedy and the only one that is genuine.

Don't be fooled by preparations which are trading upon the marvelous success of Herpicide. Remember you take no chances with Nebro's Herpicide. It is absolutely guaranteed.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications at good barber shops.

The Herpicide company, of Detroit, Mich., Dept. R, will send a sample bottle and booklet upon receipt of 10c in postage. Bradley Bros., special agents.

An Interesting Letter from a Manager of Schools in Trinidad

"It would be of some interest to you to know that one of our school children was suffering for several months from a stubborn case of ITCH, and although the parents applied various remedies for the proper treatment of the disease, yet they proved all alike unsuccessful in affecting a cure. On reading of "EXOINTO" in the local papers we enquired at your Drug Department, and on the further recommendation of your Managing Chemist, a half-pound tin supply was procured for trial. We have much pleasure in confirming that after three days' application in accordance with the directions of your department, our youthful patient has been completely cured."

Balmain, Couva, Trinidad, July 14, 1913. (Signed) C. D. LALA Manager of Schools, C. M. Staff—Couva District

Work of Real Usefulness.

Don't let the cynic argue you into a belief that this old world isn't getting better and that selfishness is the dominating note of human endeavor. Any such contention is effectually refuted by a notable gathering now in session in Washington where the international congress of hygiene and demography, comprising scientists of some thirty-three nations are engaged in a study of the problem of banishing all disease. It is an unselfish effort to extend the knowledge and improve the practice of hygiene and public health the world over—to teach popular sanitation, better acquaintance with nature's health laws and to equip the human family to measure up more fully to life's possibilities. Ten days hence the national conservation congress will convene in Indianapolis, where the problems to be considered will include not only the making the most of natural resources, but the actual prolongation of human life. This is regarded as the country's greatest asset, and it is demonstrated beyond question that the span of life in America is being lengthened as we come into more complete and accurate knowledge of the proper way to conserve health and strength, physical and mental. There can be no selfish impulse to actuate the devotion of a life to a cause like this. It is big, broad-guage humanity, and proves that however much the pessimist may decry the present age with its abundant portion of selfishness and sham, there is a whole lot of good in human purposes, and there's getting to be more of it every year.

The report of the government bureau of labor which sets forth the fact that there has been a tremendous advance in the cost of living in the United States is rather interesting, but it can hardly be classed among the sensational surprises of the year. Most of us already had a suspicion that something of that sort had occurred. The bureau can get into the public's good graces a deal quicker by advising us how to bring the figures down.

The full extent of the political upheaval that is likely to occur early in November can hardly be appreciated until one considers the fact that the democrats are entertaining a serious belief that they will carry Pennsylvania for Wilson. Pennsylvania democrats have never been overly numerous when contrasted with the big republican vote in the Keystone state, but they have remained with the political ship with a fidelity that merits some such recognition as this.

The East Side Civic Improvement association promises a revival of activities shortly, and it is much to be hoped that the splendid start secured by similar organizations in other parts of Fort Wayne will not be allowed to lose its force by a failure to keep the work going. The neighborhood improvement associations can do a vast work for Fort Wayne and there ought to be a resumption of activity all along the line.

Naturally enough any Indiana reception to Governor Wilson could not be completely successful without the presence of the Jefferson club of this city, which has done yeoman service in democracy's interest for many years, and the Jefferson club has been urged to participate in the reception at Indianapolis early in October.

Some eminent American advocates of world peace, it will be noted, are detained from attendance at the international peace conference now in session at Geneva by reason of the gory political battle now being waged in the United States.

PHILADELPHIA'S TAX PLAN.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Confronted with a deficit in meeting the running expenses of the city, and the necessity of borrowing millions for urgently needed improvements, while the borrowing capacity of the city is down to a beggarly $7,000,000, Mayor Blankenburg, of Philadelphia, has proposed a remarkable program of taxation. This includes a tax on household furnishings over $300 in value, on vaults under sidewalks, on overhanging signs, on occupations instead of the poll tax, a dollar a thousand on products manufactured in the city, increased imposts on automobiles, licenses and fees, and on realty used for manufacturing purposes; all these in addition to revised classification of real estate and revision of the taxes on the physical properties of public safety corporations. The present rate of $1 a hundred on realty will remain. This proposition is expected to increase the annual revenues about $4,000,000 and the borrowing capacity $84,000,000, or an amount nearly equal to the present net bonded indebtedness. He further asks for a popular vote on a $25,000,000 loan for the modernization and municipal control of the wharves and docks of the port.

Truly a large order, which the press of that town says will require a deal of thinking over. One critic recalls the axiom of the French financier of other days, that successful taxation was the picking of the most feathers from the goose with the least squawking, and opines that the mayor's is just the reverse—to pick the least feathers with the maximum of squawks. That would seem a not unfair criticism. Certainly there will be no enthusiasm for a tax on household furnishings, nor an occupation tax. Handicapping manufacturers with added taxes on realty and an impost on output is not likely to increase the industrial development of the city. If these are the products of a reform administration, Philadelphians may ask to be saved from it.

On the other hand, the city's necessities are urgent. That they may date far beyond the present administration does not help. It seems to be a situation where ambitious plans may have to wait on present exigencies. Placing the city on a firm basis on cotemporary income and outgo would seem to be the most pressing duty.

SEVENTY MILES AN HOUR.

(New York World.)

The Pennsylvania's restriction of the speed of all trains to seventy miles an hour, taken in connection with this road's agreement with the Central to lengthen the eighteen-hour Chicago schedule of both lines to twenty hours, indicate a tendency away from the old speed ideals of American railway management. It is significant that the new policy is adopted at a time when in improved road-beds, stronger bridges, steel equipment and in everything but tougher rails, the roads are in a better position to run fast trains with safety than when most of the "limiteds" and "flyers" were instituted.

Most speed records on American railroads, in fact, were made under less secure operating conditions than now exist. A Lehigh Valley train in 1897 covered 44 miles at the rate of 80 miles an hour; a Burlington train in 1902 ran 15 miles at a 98-mile gait, and a train on the Plant system in 1901 accomplished the remarkable feat of running five miles at the rate of 120 miles on hour. As far back as 1848 the Great Western of England ran a train 53 miles at a speed of 68 miles an hour.

Seventy miles an hour is the maximum speed allowed on French railways. It is more a theory than a condition as respects trains on regular schedule in any country. The Pennsylvania's and the Central's Chicago flyers average under 60 miles an hour. The fastest German train, running between Berlin and Hamburg, maintains a speed of only 55 miles on hour, and English schedules are but little faster.

Does a public demand exist for eighteen-hour and other high-speed trains? Railway managers represent that it does, and the recent wreck on the Burlington was ascribed by an Illinois jury to this indirect cause. But the companies are under no compulsion to run them; they are uneconomical, and most have been instituted by way of rivalry and to advertise the roads more than to meet any real need of the traveling public.

A policy of speed reduction would accord with the policy of retrenchment with which railroad executives are confronted in other things.

THE PRESS DISCUSSES THE TARIFF QUESTION.

"Pivotal Issue."

Charleston News and Courier: "There seems no longer to be any question that the tariff is not to be obscured in this presidential contest, as at one time seemed probable, but is to be the great pivotal issue around which the struggle will be waged."

"Always With Us."

Portland Oregonian: "The tariff as a political issue threatens to be always with us, as it has always been with us. Apparently we cannot get along without a tariff, and we can never reach a final agreement on what it shall be."

"Old Straw Rethreshed."

Los Angeles Times: "It will be old straw rethreshed to discuss the tariff question, but until democracy ceases to attack protection republicans must be ready to defend it."

Tariff Board Reports.

Philadelphia Record: "In creating the tariff board the president was actuated by the laudable motive of taking the tariff out of politics. The board's reports do not convince either party, and the tariff is just where it was."

Remedies.

St. Louis Republic: "The tariff board's chief achievement in its year and three-quarters of existance has been negative—to furnish Mr. Taft an excuse for delaying needed tariff remedies and for throwing away such remedies when a democratic congress submitted them to him."

"Secret Deals."

Chicago Record Herald: "We cannot revert to the old method of tariff-making, the method of secret deals, pull, ex parte claims, trades and concessions. Future tariffs, revised schedules and rates must be based on facts and knowledge impartially ascertained by competent men."

"Overlooked an Opportunity."

New Orleans Times-Democrat: "The democrats overlooked an opportunity to expose the insincerity of their republican colleagues by failing to offer an amendment providing for a genuine tariff commission, with authority to summon witnesses, compel the production of books and papers and make thorough investigations."

"The Almighty Dollar."

San Francisco Chronicle: "The tariff is the principal issue. It is the issue of the almighty dollar. The government spends. The people pay. The people are vitally interested to have a government that gives them their money's worth."

SHOPMEN ARE TO HELP THE CAUSE

Railroad Men to Form Wilson and Marshall Club in Fort Wayne.

CHAIRMEN ARE HERE

Railroad men and shopmen of Fort Wayne will be rallied to the cause of democracy and their services will be enlisted in the coming campaign at a special meeting to be held at democratic headquarters Thursday night, when a Railroad Men's and Shopmen's Wilson & Marshall club will be officially organized.

Special calls for the meeting will be sent out from headquarters tonight or tomorrow, and judging from the sentiment already finding expression among the shops and railroads the new organization will have an enormous membership.

There will be a number of addresses and later the club will be formed, officers will be elected and the organization placed in the field as one of the county's important political agencies.

Purpose of Meetings.

According to democratic leaders, all meetings to be held in the county and district between now and October 7 will deal chiefly with the matter of registration. It is considered by those who have been actively engaged in the campaign thus far that those who have not yet registered are members of the indifferent political class, and will be hard to get to the polls. Most of those who registered during the May and September registration are men who are interested in politics. Those who have not registered, for the most part, are indifferent, and it is this class of voters that the organizations have to deal with at the next registration period.

County Chairmen Here.

Responding to a call sent out by District Chairman E. G. Hoffman, democratic county chairmen of the Twelfth district met at the Commercial club this afternoon for the purpose of discussing registration. Each man present was extremely enthusiastic over the outlook for democracy this fall, and the chairmen all promised Mr. Hoffman to get their organizations in the field to secure a complete registration at the next period, October 7.

It is found that the registration varies in the different counties, but it is estimated that about 75 per cent of the voters have already qualified to cast their ballot in November.

THE BEVERIDGE MEETING.

HORSE DINES ON $50 BILL.

Iowa Animal Eats Greenback Given to Man as Present.

Mason City, Ia., Sept. 24.—Ben Bonda, a farmer near Spirit Lake, has a horse that is worth a $50 bill at least. The story follows: Mr. Bonda was celebrating his seventieth birthday. His son, Ben, Jr., planned to give him a $50 bill. Ben gave the bank note to a sister to give to the elder man. The girl, thinking to surprise her father, went to the barn, where he was, and put the money on a stairway leading to the loft, expecting that Mr. Bonda would find it when he came down. The family horse, though, spoiled the girl's plan. She had just turned away when the animal observed the greenback and, probably believing it a choice morsel ate it.

SAID HE'D "GET" OFFICER'S JOB

Ernest Cramer Pays Fine for Drunkenness Instead.

WAS TOO TALKATIVE

Earnest Cramer was arrested last night by Officer Laughlin because the former was drunk and used abusive language. Cramer was standing at the corner of Lewis and Lafayette streets when the police officer came along, and the officer says Cramer became abusive without any provocation. He told the officer that he was going to get his job, and used pretty strong language in saying so. The officer asked Cramer to go home, but he refused and said that he would report Laughlin to the chief. Cromer paid a fine of $5 and costs in police court this morning.

Walter Evert and Harry Simpson were fined $15 and costs for associating with lewd women, and Minnie Jones and Annie Smith, their companions, were each fined $10 and costs. Judge Mungoven suspended a ten days' jail sentence over the two men.

The quartet was arrested last night in a raid on the Riverside hotel made by a flying squadron of police officers.

William Brown, colored, of Cincinnati, could not put up a good enough story as to the reason why he was carrying a large revolver, and was given $10 and costs for carrying concealed weapons, and the gun was ordered destroyed.

Troy Murray, Joe Smith and Dan Harrod were fined $5 and costs on charges of drunkenness. Frank Miedly was given $1 and costs for public intoxication and Fred Williams was fined $4 and costs for the same offense. Joe Diamond, charged with drunkenness, was given $15 and costs. Paul Clay, colored, up on a charge of loitering, and George Harris, charged with vagrancy, were let go on their promises to get jobs. Louis Crawley, up for loitering, was too drunk to testify, and his case was continued until Sept. 27. FYrank Williams, drunk, promised to do better hereafter and was let go.

Joe Smith, of Ossian, drunk too much while in the city yesterday and got into trouble. He has a family, and Judge Mungovan let him go on his promise to keep out of trouble in the future.

DEAF MUTE IS SHOT AS THIEF

Inability to Hear Challenge Costs Indiana Man His Life.

STOPS AT WRONG DOOR

Chicago, Sept. 24.—His inability to talk or hear cost the life of William Gray, of Lowell, Ind., a deaf-mute, who lost a race against death at West Forty-seventh street station of the Monon railroad. At the time he died he was being rushed to Wesley hospital in an effort to save his life.

Gray was shot as a robber when he made a mistake in his house. He had been passing Sunday with a party of friends at Cedar Lake, and it was late when he started for home. His house is between those occupied by Mrs. Breese Webb and Grove Lloyd in Lowell.

Goes to Wrong House.

Gray mistook the front door of Mrs. Webb's house for his own and was trying to unlock it when the noise he made awakened Mrs. Webb. She went to the door and asked what was wanted.

There was no reply, and as the attempt to open the door continued Mrs. Webb began to scream. Her cries aroused Grove Lloyd, who saw Gray at the door of the Webb home.

"What are you doing there?" he demanded.

There was no reply, as Gray could not hear the question and could not have answered it if he had heard. He continued to fumble with the lock of the door, and Lloyd, drawing a revolver, shot in his direction, aiming at the ground. Lloyd intended only to frighten the supposed robber, but the bullet ricocheted, entering Gray's skull.

Wounded Man Recognized.

Lloyd ran up as the man fell, and recognized his neighbor. He immediately summoned assistance.

Gray was still alive, and it was thought his life might be saved if he obtained expert medical assistance. He was placed on train No. 4 of the Monon road and started for Chicago, but died as the train pulled into the West Forty-seventh street station. His body was taken to Lowell, Ind.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

VALESKA SURATT

In the Viennese Operetta "The Kiss Waltz" Thursday Evening.

The noted beauty, Valeska Suratt, and the complete Valeska Suratt Opera company, in the famous New York operetta, "The Kiss Waltz," last season's biggest musical success in New York, and a recent operatic triumph in Boston and Chicago, will be the attraction at the Majestic theater Thursday evening. The Shuberts have staged the production elaborately, and the noted beauty's supporting company includes a host of New York favorites. The production in scenic and costume detail is said to far excel anything ever previously attempted in operetta, but this is not surprising to those used to the usual way in which the Messrs. Shubert produce their theatric enterprises. These managers have also given their star the support of a company of notable New York singers and comedians and a bewitching feminine chorus, young women said to have operatic voices as well as charms of face and figure. The more stately of these will wear the latest London and Paris gownings.

Vaughan Glaser in "The Grain of Dust."

Mr. Vaughan Glaser's appearance at the Majestic the coming Friday and Saturday night, with a special matinee, assures a big business for this popular player and play.

"The Grain of Dust" is the dramatization of Phillips' novel of the same name.

The opportunities in the character of "Frederick Norman," give Mr. Glaser a scope that he takes more than ordinary advantage of and his many admirers, from his presentation of "The Man Between," a couple of seasons ago, are assured of a rare treat in this latest and greatest interpretation.

AT THE TEMPLE

"Whose Little Girl Are You?" is a musical act of unusual length for vaudeville which is the headliner at the Temple this week. It is also an act that entertains the audience every minute. The cast is very good and W. B. Morris, Lawrence Ackerlind and sweet Grace Thurston do some clever acting in addition to their tiptop singing, while the rest of the company fill in all the empty spaces with pretty dancing and singing. Miss Thurston is charming and Miss Virginia Lewis has a good voice. Mr. Morris in the role of a woman has one of those absurd parts which keeps the most of the audience in an uproar and the entire act is lively and amusing.

Of the other acts Warren and Brockway present the funniest in their mixture of music and farce and their act is so fast it nearly takes the breath from one to watch them. The Valerie sisters sing and dance well and proved a pleasure to see and hear. Miss Laurie Ordway, the "English suffragette" of the bill, is certainly clever and she has several costumes that are as funny as she is herself. Miss Ordway has some character parts that are original and display talent, but she gets the most of her laughs from gestures and remarks that are not worthy of her natural gift as an entertainer.

The Gaumont Weekly films this week are remarkably interesting and entertaining. They cover a wide range of subjects.

Billie Burke

DEFINES THE WORD COSMETIC.

By Billie Burke.

THE FIRST WORD—The definition and use of cosmetics are much misunderstood.

* * *

Many people "shy at the word cosmetic. They seem to think that is what the little six-year-old called Helen—"a naughty word"—and they have about as much reason for thinking it immoral as the child had for thinking Helen "naughty."

MISS BURKE.

The meaning of the word cosmetics is "any preparation that renders the skin soft, pure and white, that helps to beautify or improve the complexion." A combination of pure soap and softwater is a cosmetic, quite as much as cold cream—and a good cold cream is quite as necessary to the preservation of a good complexion as soap and water.

HERE IS THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION—perfect health and perfect cleanliness.

"I never use anything on my face except soap and water," says a woman with a great assumption of virtue. She looks the part. Her face is full of blackheads, her skin is rough and its pores are large. There are ugly long hairs at the side of her mouth and altogether she looks illy groomed. If she would use a good cream on her face and wipe it off with a clean linen cloth she would find that there was a lot of dirt that she could not get off her face with just soap and water.

Here is the trouble. Women seem to think that nothing they can put on their skin will do it any harm, and they seem to believe that everything that anyone recommends to them may help them.

All the cosmetics that I use are made from my own receipts. I know that the ingredients are pure and helpful. I would not put a bit of vaseline or any of the by-products of crude oil on my face, any more than I would use carbolic acid. I would not use any hair tonic which contained sugar of lead, or any powder that contained any preparation of zinc. I would not use any face bleach that contained mercury or corrosive sublimate.

However, a cold cream made of pure vegetable oils and healing ungents is almost necessary to those who live in steam-heated apartments, who wash their faces in hard water, and who are not particular about the purity of their soaps.

Actresses, as a rule, have the best complexions in the world, notwithstanding they use a great deal of powder and paints behind the footlights. They use quantities of cold cream every day of their lives. I put water upon my face but once a day, and then I give it a good scrubbing with a brush and some pure soap, making a lather. After this I rinse it carefully with cold water and then rub on cold cream.

A great many women say they cannot use oily creams, as they have oily skins. I think they could use vegetable oils, if after rubbing the cream on their faces they would take a cloth and rub off all the superfluous oil. A person with an oily skin, however, should be very careful not to eat much fatty food.

* * *

JUST ONE LAST WORD—If one would have a good complexion, one must be very careful what one puts inside the mouth and outside the skin.

Mme. Calve Coming to Ft. Wayne Soon

Famous Grand Opera Contralto to Be Heard in Concert Here.

Manager M. E. Rice received a special dispatch this morning announcing an engagement extraordinary at the Majestic early in November, of Madam Emma Calve, the world renowned contralto, and her handsome young husband, Signor Galileo Gasparri. Fort Wayne is especially fortunate in this engagement, as the renowned diva's present tour includes but thirty-five concerts in a liminted tour of the whole of North America.

Madam Calve will appear in her own tabloid version of "Carmen," the role she made famous, the principal scenes being given in costume and with special scenery. Several arias and duets from other of her favorite roles will be given as the first part of the concert and the opera portion afterwards. The exact date has not been decided upon, but will likely be during the first half of November.

California Voters Want Unsightly Signs Kept Off Highways.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 24.—Five delegations appeared before the state highway commission and urged new routes, changes of surveys and other matters relative to the construction of roads under the $18,000,000 bond issue.

A delegation from the California Federation of Women's Clubs asked the commisson to keep all the highways entirely free from unsightly billboards, signs on trees, etc. The club women were assured by the commission that all such action possible would be taken.

MINISTER STOPS BAND NOISE.

He Objects to Music Close to Church During Services.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24.—Because the band music in a nickelodeon, managed by Thomas James, at Sixteenth and Chestnut streets, interfered with services at St. John's church, the pastor, the Rev. Stephen J. Brady, requested Chief of Police Young to have the disturbance stopped. Capt Seyhwartz and Sergt. Lange of the central district investigated and Manager James promised to keep the band silent during church services. Father Brady complained also that the girls singing in St. John's choir were frequently insulted by rowdies loafing near the church when the girls were going in to practice. ART SMITH TAKES WELL IN THE WEST

Local Boy Aviator Praised by the Newspapers of Minneapolis.

LAD IS WELL LIKED

Minneapolis newspapers are filled with interviews and lengthy accounts of the achievements of Art Smith, of Fort Wayne, the well-known boy aviator, who is making exhibition flights throughout the west. The lad has made by his remarkable flights in a Curtiss type biplane, and through his modesty and his nervy accomplishments, has taken Minnesota by storm.

Heralded as the youngest aviator in the United States, the Minneapolis Tribune says:

"Art Smith, 19 years old, Fort Wayne, Ind., said to be the youngest aviator in the United States, says nerve is not the most essential thing for a person who desires to enter the aviation game. Young Smith arrived at the Vendome hotel yesterday from Albert Lea, Minn., where he recently made successful flights. He is on his way to Madison, Minn., to fill another engagement.

"The aviation game is crowded with men who have plenty of nerve to make flights, but it is 'false' nerve and they soon fall by the wayside unless they are killed, said Smith. 'The man with 'brass' nerve usually is good for one or two flights and then after an accident he gets frightened and soon quits. The man who has only a small amount of nerve to begin takes his time, learns his machine and gains confidence in himself, whereas the man with the nerve to start acquires a different feeling.'

"Smith is a modest chap and has attracted attention wherever he has made flights. He began his career at Fort Wayne, Ind., two years ago, and at present is flying a Curtiss type biplane which he constructed himself.

Figured in Many Accidents.

"His first successful flight was made in September, 1911, and since that time he has been doing contantes. He has figured in no less than a dozen spectacular accidents, but not once has he been injured. At Sterling, Ill., his engine went 'dead' when he was fifty feet in the air. The machine came to the ground with terrible force, and Smith was thrown out but alighted in a muddy cornfield, which probably saved him from death.

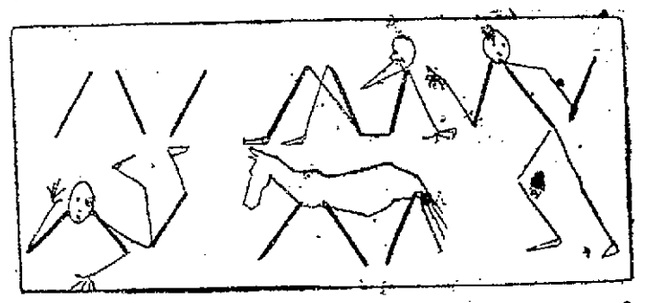
"Smith has built two machines. He began in February, 1910, on his first machine while studying to be an architectural draughtsman at Fort Wayne. After completing the machine he tore it to pieces and reconstructed it several times before he made his first successful flight. Smith's parents furnished him with $1,500 and he built a new machine, which he is now using."

In another publication is the following paragraph:

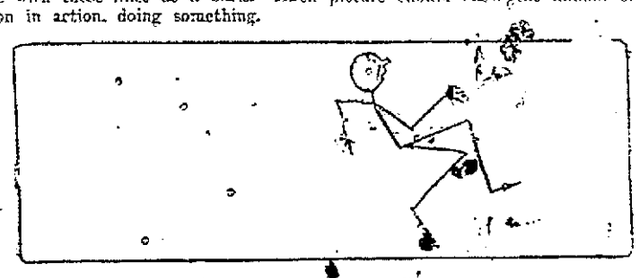
"The few people who were not out to the fair Friday afternoon at 2:05 could be seen gazing toward the sky, their faces expressing both awe and interest. The reason for this strange demonstration on their part was the birdboy, Art Smith, who flew his Curtiss Model biplane directly over the city notwithstanding the strong wind which was blowing. Smith is the first aviator in this city to attempt to fly with a wind blowing."

WHAT CAN YOU SEE IN A CROOKED LINE? DRAW WHAT YOU SEE.

Here's an idea for entertaining a party of young folks with materials always at hand—pencils and paper. Let each member of the party draw at random on the center of his sheet of paper a short, crooked line. The line should not cross itself at any point. When this has been done all the guests exchange papers and each tries to make a picture on the paper he receives, using the crooked line as part of the outline of his drawing. The pictures shown herewith were made in this way, the original being distinguished by being heavier than the rest.



You may have to twist your brain some on this, but it's worth it. Here's the way. Draw three straight lines in the positions shown in the illustration. Then see how many different animals—including human beings—you can make with these lines as a basis. Each picture should show the animal or person in action, doing something.



If you're clever with pencil and paper you can make almost anything out of five little circles. Take a sheet of paper and draw the circles hit-or-miss, anywhere you like.

Then draw lines connecting them and see what funny figures you are sure to devise. The illustration shows some samples of the way this art stunt works.

STAINS

LACE CLEANING.

A MIXTURE of powdered starch and borax, rubbed well in with a tooth brush or nail brush, will clean Battenberg, point or cluny lace. Repeat process on wrong side. Cover with powder when you have done. Throw a cloth over it to keep out the dust and leave for a day or two. Shake, lay on a board, cover with a very damp cloth. Press with a hot iron through the cloth.

REVIVING LACE.

To revive the black, make some black tea about the usual strength for drinking, and strain it off the leaves. Pour enough tea into a basin to cover the quantity of lace. Let it stand 10 or 12 hours, then squeeze it several times, but do not rub it. Dip it frequently into the tea which will at length assume a dirty appearance. Have ready some weak gum water, and press the lace gently through it. Then clap it for a quarter of an hour, after which pin it to a towel in any shape which you wish it to take. When nearly dry cover it with another towel and iron with a cool iron.

SILK GARMENTS.

For stains, use five parts glycerine mixed with five parts water, and one quarter part of ammonia added. Try it out on some part where it doesn't show, first, to see if it takes the color out. If it does, don't add ammonia.

FINE DOILIES.

Embroidered handkerchiefs, cravates, center pieces and fine doilies may be cleaned by brushing, thoroughly, with a mixture of powdered starch and borax; one ounce of borax to a pound of starch. The starch should be sifted at least four times.

ASKS RELEASE OF SON FROM PRISON

Mother of Frank Wells, Convicted in Fort Wayne, Before Board.

MINOR INDIANA NEWS

Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—The state board of pardons yesterday heard an appeal from the sister of Samuel R. Hull, who was sentenced to serve a life sentence for the murder of their father in 1897. Hull was sent to the state prison from Gibson county, and his sister is asking that he be released.

The principal argument for release was given by his sister, Mrs. M. I. Neeper, now residing in Illinois. She contends that her brother has been punished sufficiently for his crime.

The mother of Frank Wells who was sentenced to the state reformatory at Jeffersonville about seven months ago for violating his parole appeared before the board and pleaded for the release of her son. Young Wells learned a trade while at the reformatory and was released about a year ago.

He went to work at his trade and while on a strike he departed from Indiana and went to Florida. He gave himself up and asked to be returned to the reformatory. Wells was sentenced from Allen county, but since his confinement his mother has taken up her residence in Jeffersonville.

DIES WHILE CLEANING BOILER.

Marion Workman Succumbs in Tube and Coroner Investigates.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 24.—There is considerable mystery attending the death of George Dunn, 45 years old, which occurred in the boiler at the plant of the Western Motor company late yesterday afternoon. Dunn and other employes were inside the tube working, when he rolled over dead. First it was believed he had been electrocuted by the current supplying a hand lamp he was using. The city electrican said the lamp was receivin gonly 150 volts, insufficient to cause death. It is said Dunn was not suffocated, as there was plenty of ventilation. Coroner Cameron will hold an autopsy.

DAYLIGHT THIEF TAKES GEMS.

Diamonds and Sapphire Stolen From South Bend Home.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 24.—The boldest diamond robbery in the history of South Bend is holding the attention of the police. Between 11 and 12 o'clock a thief entered the residence of former Mayor D. B. J. Schafer, almost in the heart of the city, and stole gems valued at $1,000. The booty consisted of two solitaire diamond rings and one set with a sapphire and ten diamonds. There is no clew to the robber. The thief entered the house through an unfastened door. The rings were taken from a cabinet. Nothing else was molested.

BLIND MAN IS DISSAPOINTED.

Relatives Refuse Use of Murderer's Eyes in Operation.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—John Cashin, a blind newspaper seller, who was led by scientific articles in a local newspaper to believe that his sight was to be restored by having the eyes of a man condemned to death put in the place of his sightless eyes, is doomed to disappointment. Relatives of the murderer, Robert L. Clay, whose eyes were to have been used, have refused to permit the mutilation of the body. Under the law the body of a man who has paid the death penalty for a crime belongs to his nearest relatives. Local physicians had said that the proposed operation might be successful and all details for it had been arranged, except asking the consent of Clay's relatives. When that was done his brother refused to grant it.

T. L. Parks, Murrayville, Ga., Route 1, is in his 73rd year, and like the majority of elderly people, he suffered with kidney trouble and bladder weakness and urinary irregularity. He says: "I have suffered with my kidneys. My back ached and I was annoyed with bladder irregularities. I can truthfully say, one 50c bottle of Foley Kidney Pills cured me entirely." They contain no habit forming drugs. Dreier Drug. Co.

MASTER TAILORS LET US TAILOR YOU ESTABLISHED 1898

"THANK YOU"

We owe to the men of Fort Wayne this word of acknowledgment for the spirit in which they helped us open our store at N. E. Corner Calhoun and Jefferson Sts., on Saturday.

The welcome we received made us feel at home. It was not entirely that our sales on opening day ran up into figures beyond our expectations. This was something to be proud of, of course, but better still were the words of kindly welcome which fell from every lip. We were made to feel at home from the very start. That was the vital thing.

Mere thanks, however earnest they be, fall short of the occasion. We must pay our debt of gratitude in a better way and this we will try to do by making the Hamilton store here established, a real addition to the town—a lively contributor to its rapid growth and another real enterprise from the success of which Fort Wayne as well as ourselves will derive a substantial benefit.

BASEBALL ATHLETICS

EMPTY STOMACH IS RESPONSIBLE

Joe Wood Was Hungry and He Thought Base Ball Would Feed Him.

WAS GIVEN A PLACE

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 24.—A tall slip of a lad of 17 summers blew into Hutchinson, Kansas, in the spring of 1907. He was seeking employment, and cared not what he landed, as long as it fed his hungry stomach. After failing in his mission at several of the city's stores, he decided to try the foundries on the outskirts of the city. A half mile from the city proper was the Western association team's ball yard. The players were out for morning practice—a happy thought eased its way into the brain of this courageous youngster.

Why not go in and ask for a job on the ball team. Hadn't he been the best outfielder at high school? Hadn't he been considered the best semi-pro player in his county? Through the gate right out onto the field this youngster walked; went up to the manager and asked for a position.

"Why, you're only a kid. Get out there and chase flies," ordered the manager.

This was just the chance that the boy wanted. To the right, to the left, far in in front and far over his head did this lad of 17 summers chase the ball—and not one did he miss.

He had made good in a half-hour and that noon, when practice was over, the manager signed him as an outfielder.

This introduces Mr. Joseph Wood, of Boston, Mass., today the pitching king of the American league.

But "Smoky Joe" didn't remain long as an outfielder. The Hutchinson team was hard up for pitchers and finally Manager Andrews faced a crucial game with no slabster to work. He happened to see Wood warm up out in the field, and noticed that he possessed terrific speed. A happy inspiration seized the disheartened manager. Why not let Wood go on the slab in batting practice and use some of that great speed against the home batters? If he made good against 'em he could easily baffle the opposition.

So Joe trotted out to the box. Nine men faced him. Eight of them fanned, while the other popped weakly in front of the plate.

"Hey, you Wood, come in here and give that arm a rest!" yelled Manager Andrews. "I want you to pitch today."

And from that hour Joe Wood has been working himself up the ladder of fame as a hurler, until today he stands on the top round.

Local interest in the American association pennant race centered in the receipt of the Minneapolis team for the season for the reason that James Thomas Burke, former pilot of the Millkens, was forced to resign along with W. H. Watkins and there was a desire to see whether Charley O'Leary or Charley O'Day could do better with the club than the old heads.

Indianapolis finished a hopeless tail-end proposition with a percentage of only .333. Last year the club finished seventh, but it won 78 games and lost 88 for a percentage of .470.

Apparently Burke was made the goat in the deal and Watkins was forced out along with him. Indianapolis with Sunday ball and a winning club is good for a big profit every season and the owners are naturally very anxious to recruit the team up to the standard of the league.

Minneapolis repeated and won the pennant with Toledo second, just a game ahead of Columbus. The scores in the final games were:

QUINN IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

Bobby Quinn will not be a candidate for the presidency of the Central league. He has plenty of troubles at Columbus and wants to give somebody else the burden of running the Central.

SOME OF THE MEN WHO HAVE BEEN PROMINENT IN PREPARING FOR BIG TRACK MEET.

With a little indulgence from the weather bureau the first big meet of the Fort Wayne Amateur Athletic association will make a bow to the public at the Driving park Saturday afternoon that will surprise the general public as much as it surprised the promoters who really expected not more than half the entries that have been made.

Every organization has a full representation and as there are some fast men in the city the program should be highly entertaining.

Serial numbers have been supplied each club as follows:

Company D, 1-20; Friars, 21-40; Lutheran City league, 41-60; Lyceum Athletic club, 61-80; Pennsylvania Athletic club, 81-100; St. Mary's Athletic club, 101-140; Senecas, 141-160; Turners, 161-180.

GARDNER NOT BADLY HURT.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—Officials of the Boston baseball club were relieved today to learn from Detroit that Larry Gardner, the Red Sox third baseman, who was hurt there Saturday, is not as seriously injured as at first reported. Instead of being broken, his injured finger has suffered only a dislocation.

He will not only be able to play in the world's series, but will get into the closing series with Philadelphia, his physician expects.

STRUCK OUT TWENTY-FIVE MEN.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 24.—Pitcher Al Powers, formerly with the Helena team in the Union association, in a game between semi-professional teams here struck out twenty-five men in nine innings and then lost his game, 7 to 2. The catcher who worked with Powers made 20 put-outs, 5 assists and 7 errors.

FRIARS WORK OUT TONIGHT.

At Swinney park tonight the Friars expect to work out as the men were not able to get any practice at League park Sunday morning. All candidates are requested by Coach Laird to be present at 8 o'clock sharp.

HUGH JENNINGS SAYS

BY HUGH A. JENNINGS,
Manager of the Detroit American League Team.

THERE IS NO CHANCE TO COMPARE THE RED SOX AND GIANTS MANAGERS, BECAUSE JOHN J. M'GRAW IS PEERLESS—HE IS IN A CLASS BY HIMELF.

The New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox will meet for the supremacy of the base ball world. This is now assured.

The great question to base ball men is, "Will either team play up to its real form or will they, like every other team in a world's series, save the 1908 Cubs, fall below standard?"

The 1908 Cubs, who defeated Detroit four out of five games, alone played up to their real game in the post-season battles. All others—Giants, Athletics, Pirates and Tigers—failed to show their real class, owing, I believe, to the peculiar effect which the importance of these games exercised upon the minds of the players.

Men expected to shine in world's series games; men who have starred all season usually lose their brilliance during the heat of the struggle for the supremacy of the base ball world.

It will be interesting this fall to note the work of such stars as Joe Wood, This Speaker, Larry Doyle and Jeff Tesreau. Will they live up to their reputations or will they, like stars of former league races, fall the victims of this world's series psychology?

Because of this peculiar effect of the importance of these games upon the stars and upon the team as a whole, I will not attempt to pick a winner. A comparison of the strength of the rival teams as they are playing today, however, I can make, and the reader may draw his own conclusions.

First, as to managers, the Giants have the greatest manager in the world in John J. McGraw. He has no peer in the game. It is no disparagement of the Red Sox leader, Jake Stahl, to say that in leadership the Giants have a big advantage at the outset.

McGraw has built up teams and won pennants with them. He has made stars of comparatively weak men. He has ripened lemons, like Rube Marquard, into luscious peaches.

John McGraw is a fighter, a driver, a leader, all in one. He is one of the scrappiest men in base ball, and if Boston gets anything it is not entitled to it will not be his fault, for, depend upon it, he will overlook nothing that brains, resource or strategy can invent.

McGraw gets everything out of his men, because he knows human nature. He knows when to drive and when to lead. He is lenient when leniency is the balm for sore hearts and sore heads; he is stern when discipline is the antidote for strong hearts and strong heads. And, above all, when his men deliver they are well paid.

McGraw made a great player of Fred Merkle, when Merkle was on the verge of going to pieces, following his play that gave the Cubs a pennant. When the world censured him McGraw said nothing, but he handed the youngster a contract for the next season calling for a big advance in salary. Had he jumped upon the boy the Giants in all probability would have had to find another first baseman, because Merkle was at the point where very little more would have spoiled his usefulness. McGraw saved him. Just such things make McGraw's players go the limit for him. They realize he always has their interest at heart.

JAKE STAHL, BOSTON MANAGER.

Jake Stahl's great machine was put together by John I. Taylor, jr., former owner of the club, and he fitted in at first base as an effective cog in a wonderful machine. But Taylor deserves credit for building up the machine.

Stahl's strength as leader lies in his ability to go out and play and lend personal leadership and that indomitable spirit of his to the game.

Stahl went to Boston a finished ball player, with valuable managerial experience gained in Washington. But greater than all has been the loyal support of the fans. Boston is the one city where the people know base ball well enough to place the blame for a losing team where it belongs—upon poor players, not upon the management.

When a team goes wrong in Boston the fans figure out which players are at fault and blame them. Hence Stahl has had no personal discouragement.

But you can't compare McGraw and Stahl as managers and team builders, because McGraw is in a class by himself.

Hugh Jennings

JOHN J. (MUGGSY) M'GRAW, NEW YORK MANAGER.

GIANTS FIT FOR THE BIG SERIES

Men Fast and McGraw Says They Will Give the Red Sox a Fight.

PITCHERS WERE RIGHT

BY JOHN J. M'GRAW,
Manager New York Giants.

The Giants won the National league pennant because of the universally fast work of my men. They were quick to act and quicker to think, when quick thinking meant something.

My pitchers have done grand work and have been well supported. None of the men has made many errors, although I have no ambition to manage an errorless playing ball club.

Errors made in base ball playing are just as necessary to the game as good batting, great pitching and fast fielding.

I never find fault with any of my men for making a fumble, of for any other error that is not due to stupidity. I do not think the average fan realizes that ball players can not always be keyed up to the notch.

In every other branch of athletics men are trained for specific events. The oarsman is trained for his race; the wrestler for his bout; the sprinter for his dash; even football players are kept in condition but a short time, while ball players must keep in perfect condition through gruelling work and more or less mental strain, for nine months of the year.

You know that David Harum maintained it was the difference in opinion that made horse racing. Few people seem to appreciate that the errors that are made on the diamond, sometimes due to the fact that the player is not physically fit, make base ball a game which the fans go "bug house" over. Errorless games are monotonous to the average spectator.

It is the duty of both manager and men of a winning team, however, to see that it is the other fellows who vary the monotony.

What the other fellows don't do is what makes the bleachers howl in derision, and what the home team does do makes them howl with delight. Very different sounds, I assure you; either one sets the nerves a-tingling and makes base ball the greatest out-of-door sport and one of the most remunerative professions in the world.

We are going into this world's series with Boston to win. It should be a well fought, exciting series, for Boston has been playing great ball and the Giants are fit to fight for a kingdom.

Unless something that I can not foresee happens, my men will go in in fit condition, and every one of them will be in the game for all there is in him—not because it is the world's series, but because it is his business to play ball, just as it is the business of a good lawyer to win every case he can.

I can not forecast how the Giants will line up, as some may be disabled before play starts, but whatever happens, the fans may rest assured we will give Boston a harder battle than they have had this year.

LEAGUE TO OPEN BOWLING SEASON

Manufacturers Elect Officers and Decide on October 4.

BOWL ON FRIDAYS

At a meeting held at the Metropolitan alleys last night the Manufacturers' Bowling league decided to open the season on October 4 and to bowl all games on Friday night of each week. The schedule will run until April 1, of next year.

Harry Brooks, of the Wabash, was elected president; Walter Koenig, of the Knitting Mills, vice president, and Ora Goff, of the Bowser plant, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Goff was re-elected, having been in the same office last season. He has been most active in bowling among the manufacturing concerns for several years and is also secretary of the Bowser league.

There will be eight instead of six clubs in the league and there are nine applicants for the places, so that until final selections have been made no announcement of the make-up of the organization is to be published.

The league last season was a most marked success and it will be a better one this season for the reason that some excellent bowlers were developed and are ready to do better work on the drives this winter.

RANGERS TELL OF LIGHTNING

Declares Current Does Strike Twice in the Same Place.

STAND UNDER A TREE

Washington, Sept. 24.—Lightning does strike twice in the same place, despite the old saying. Rangers in the national forests report that single trees are often struck many times. Indeed, they say that a tree that has been deadened by a former stroke is more liable to second attack; the dry, dead branches appear to be better conductors.

In a report Fred G. Plummer, geographer in the forest service, explodes also the theory that in a thunderstorm a person is safer in the open than under a tree.

"It has often been stated," he says, "that the majority of persons killed by lightning sought refuge under trees, but this is not the fact. More than one-half of such deaths occur in the open and less than one-quarter under trees."

The tree under which the person stands catches and absorbs the force of the stroke. The greatest danger is from secondary shocks or from flying splinters from the shattered tree. A person standing out in the open, being the most prominent object, attracts and receives the direct stroke of any electric current that may come near him.

Mr. Plummer says that lightning strikes more frequently in New Mexico and Arizona than in any other section of the country, though there are more thunderstorms in Florida and Illinois.

He reviews some of the curious early and present beliefs and theories about the immunity of some trees from lightning stroke. Later experiments and observations seem to bear out such a theory. While it has not been practically established, it is considered certain that some trees are more liable to stroke than others. Fibre, structure, shape and degree of moisture probably account for the immunity or liability. On this subject he says:

"From early times there has been a belief that certain trees more than others are likely to be struck by lightning. The elder Pliny said: 'Lightning never strikes the laurel.' This tree was also called bay, and wreathes of its leaves were worn by ancient rulers, both as a symbol of victory and as a protection from the lightning of the gods. Seneca and Plutarch held similar beliefs, which may be traced down even to modern times; but the theory as now held includes a number of trees, differing in various countries. This belief was so firmly established that such trees as the beech and locust, supposed to be effective in warding off lightning, were planted near dwellings.

"To this day there are many who still insist that the beech is never struck, while in parts of the United Sates the aspen is considered immune from lightning. On the other hand, it was believed that such trees as the oak, particularly cork oak, had a very bad reputation for attracting lightning, and this belief prevails even now. There is a proverb,

'Avoid the oak, flee from the spruce, but seek the beech.' And also—

"'Beware the oak, it draws the stroke;
Avoid the ash, it courts the flash;
Creep under the thorn, 'twill save from harm.'"

Mr. Plummer reports that incomplete forest records show that 76,301 trees have been struck in the national forests of the west during the past four years. The records have not been kept for the whole of that period in all the territory affected and under the supervision of the bureau. Lightning causes many of the destructive forest fires.

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are the Voices of Fort Wayne People.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Fort Wayne people are in this chorus. Here's a Fort Wayne case.

Mrs. Josephine Yehl, 1835 Force St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "One of my family took Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to be just what was needed. He suffered from severe pains across his back together with weakness of the kidneys. He used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and that was all that was needed to make a lasting cure. I advise anyone who had kidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

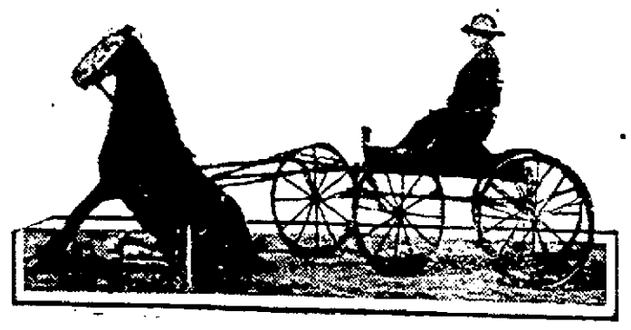
WONDERFUL HORSE IS HEADLIGHT; WILL SOON GO INTO VAUDEVILLE.



ONE OF HEADLIGHT'S STUNTS.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 24.—Works as a sleuth eight hours. Plays with trained horse eight hours. Sleeps eight hours.

That's the general routine of Detective Roy Fordyce, of the Spokane police department.

First glance at his schedule shows no time for eating and perhaps a friendly word with the boys. Fordyce is a busy man, but has learned to make hay in sunshine or in moonshine, and in between finds plenty of time to eat and chat with the fellows.

The horse—Headlight—however, is the real topic of interest.

Fordyce bought Headlight when just a colt and has taught him some thirty odd stunts that make him an attraction. Perhaps the most spectacular feat Headlight does is of a decidedly patriotic nature. At the conclusion of his performances—for he does perform and enjoys it—Headlight fires a revolver with his teeth which releases an American flag to the breezes. It's a good finale and never fails to bring down the house.

Such easy tricks as kissing Fordyce on one knee, telling his age, the days of the week, shaking hands and the like came easily to Headlight. Fordyce allows him to kiss no one but himself these days. Headlight once kissed a woman and for weeks after refused to look at Fordyce.

One of the more difficult stunts is walking a seven-inch plank balanced on pedestals. He also balances on an eighteen-inch pedestal with all four feet touching and then revolves. Balanced on two pedestals he picks up a handkerchief placed between his legs.

Headlight enjoys playing dead and "goes to bed" using Roy for a pillow. He can sit on his haunches when hitched to a buggy and does the spectacular in mounting an elevated pedestal with one forefoot raised to a peak. He can catch a handkerchief thrown in the air. Headlight also says his prayers.

The real climax is his ability to carry Fordyce through crowded streets in a buggy without the use of reins or bridle. The light touch of the whip is used for guidance. Headlight made a record drive of 150 miles from Spokane to Tekoa, Wash., in this fashion last fall, and raced across a railroad crossing in front of a fast moving train. He came out of the tight place calmly and trotted down the road alongside the whistling engine. Headlight will shortly go on the vaudeville stage. Fordyce has refused $2,000 for him.

KANSAS CITY IN "UPLIFT."

Town in Throes of Moral Agitation, Says Report.

Kansas City, Sept. 24.—Kansas City is having a moral and educational uplift all the time, according to L. A. Halbert, superintendent of the board of public welfare. Mr. Halbert, in his report as superintendent, which he is preparing for the fiscal year emphasizes the fact that during that time Kansas City has been given through the board of public welfare, several new and beneficial organizations. Among these, he names factory inspection, vacant lot gardening, the women's reformatory, a convalescent committee to take care of those persons turned loose from the hospitals, social center meetings in the public schools and churches, and a field employment officer. He mentions the child welfare exhibit, the men and religion forward movement, the cold weather emergency aids, home visitation, in all of which he says the board of public welfare assisted.

CONGRESS DOESN'T PAY WELL.

Former Member Says 90 Per Cent. of "Victims" Long to Quit.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Former Representative Eaton J. Bowers, of Mississippi, is in this city. Mr. Bowers quit congress voluntarily.

"I quit," he said, "because I could not make ends meet on the salary of a congressman. I went back to my law practice and I am mighty glad of it. The truth is 90 per cent. of the members would quit if they had the courage to take the step. A member of congress no longer has any independence of thought or judgment. The proletariat is making cowards of all."

$80,000,000.00 LOST ANNUALLY BY WAGE EARNERS.

Dr. Sadler estimates that about $80,000,000.00 in wages is lost annually to the American people as a direct result of colds. Lost time means lost wages and doctoring is expensive. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It will stop the cough and heal and soothe the sore and inflamed air passages. Cure your common colds quickly, and prevent their developing into more serious conditions. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound contains no opiates. Is safe for children. FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP---25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your hair! Danderine destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair, we prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you.

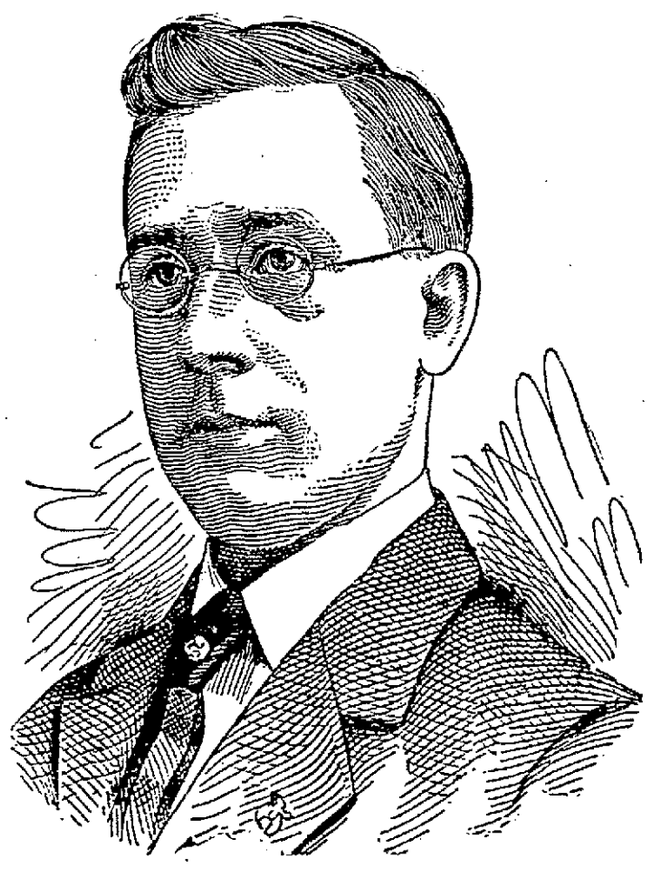
IT'S EASY TO BE A HERO—WHEN YOU KNOW HOW.



DR. HARDMAN, Specialist

I Cure Pelvic, Chronic and Nervous Diseases

CURES AT YOUR OWN PRICE—Every person who calls on me before October 1st will not only receive a careful and thorough examination FREE OF CHARGE, but absolutely no fee will be charged during that time other than you yourself are willing to pay.

SCIENTIFIC AND THOROUGH EXAMINATION—I have made it a point never to treat any case until I had made a careful and thorough examination and definitely located the cause of the trouble. This takes time, care and a complete and scientific knowledge of the parts affected, both in health and in disease. The human body is a most complicated piece of mechanism. In fact, so complicated that it is impossible for any one person to thoroughly understand its normal, or healthy condition. How much more impossible, then, would it be to understand all the diseased conditions that may arise?

Knowing, as I do, the absolute futility of attempting to successfully treat every disease I have limited my study to PELVIC, CHRONIC AND NERVOUS DISEASES, and my many years of experience in their treatment have enabled me to perfect methods which will positively and permanently restore to perfect health nearly all these conditions in which the ordinary methods have failed.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and nearly all nervous diseases are the direct result of CHRONIC or imperfectly treated PELVIC DISEASES. By my special methods in the treatment of these diseases I not only remove every trace of the disease itself, but am able to restore to a normal and healthy condition the broken-down and devitalized nervous system.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without knife and without detention from business.

BLOOD POISON—Only the most advanced methods are used by me in the treatment of Blood Poison and kindred diseases.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases are quickly and permanently cured.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—This may result from a number of causes. The constant jarring and vibration of trains and trolley cars are a very potent cause. Bicycle riding and the use of riding implements on the farm are factors in producing this disease. In fact, the causes are so common that fully 75 per cent. of all adults are afflicted to a greater or less extent by this disease. The disease is so little understood, and as one of the principal symptoms is a pain in the back, it is usually called kidney trouble, and treated with local applications or sedatives, which can do no possible good whatever. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent. of all cases.

GOING AFTER 1913 CONVENTION

Delegates to State Federation Prepared to Present Ft. Wayne's Claim.

MR. M'KNIGHT ASKED TO ADDRESS VETS

Treasurer of Company Will Be Chief Speaker at the Banquet.

Clothed with municipal and union labor authority to invite the state Federation of Labor to hold the 1913 convention in Fort Wayne and wearing badges on which were the legends "Fort Wayne in 1913" and "Fort Wayne With Might and Main," a delegation of local labor union representatives left over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road at 1 o'clock this morning for Richmond, where the state federation opened a three days' meeting this morning.

The personnel of the Fort Wayne party was as follows: H. C. Holtje, P. R. Bell, Joseph Shaw, J. W. Loney, Mrs. L. D. Redding, J. A. Lechler, W. M. Worland, John Dailey, L. D. Miller, E. T. Drew, F. J. Schwanz, Joseph Block, William Latenberg, W. M. Kelsey and P. E. Bresnahan. These men bear messages from Mayor Grice and other city officials and from the Commercial club, inviting the federation to come to Fort Wayne a year hence and promising to entertain the delegates and visitors in a manner satisfactory to them and to the honor of the city and the labor union interests therein.

The departure for Richmond followed the close of one of the most important meetings of the Fort Wayne Federation last night. The attendance was large, because of the interest the union men of Fort Wayne are taking in the state meeting this week. Matters that will come before the Fort Wayne body and particularly some measures that will be introduced by the Fort Wayne delegates were discussed with a view of deciding upon the best methods of laying them before the federation and pushing them through to a successful termination. Among these was a proposition for a federal old age pension law, which originated with James A. Lechler, president of the Fort Wayne Federation and which has been so favorably considered by all local union labor people. A resolution favoring such legislature will be presented to the state federation by a committee composed of William Worland, J. A. Lechler and Joseph Shaw. Another proposed resolution to be presented at the meeting in Richmond will urge legislation for a plumbers' certificate of competency, similar to the laws bearing on that subject in some of the other states. The federation last night also went on record as being opposed to the relief unions and pension systems as managed by the large corporations of the country and favors the abolishment of the system and the substitution of the federal old age pension measure.

The labor temple building committee reported a communication from D. C. Fisher, the real estate dealer, offering for sale or lease his property at 126, 128 and 130 West Wayne street, for a site for the labor temple. The communication was referred to the committee to be brought up at a future meeting. The union label committee reported that the new label directory will be ready for distribution in a few days and the Women's Union Label League stated that a special campaign among the local business firms will be started by that organization immediately after the publication of the new label directory. The Labor Day committee reported a balance of $75.16 in the Labor Day fund, after paying all the expenses. The receipts were $867.56 and the expenditures $792.40. Local union men and the business men of the city will watch with interest for the result of the contest for the 1913 convention. These meetings attract from 400 to 500 people to a city and continue through the greater part of a week.

INVITED AS CHIEF ORATOR.

T. H. B. M'Knight Will Deliver Address at Banquet.

The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Company Employes' Veteran association has extended an invitation to T. H. B. McKnight, treasurer of the Pennsylvania company to deliver the chief address at the annual banquet of the association at the Elks' Home Saturday evening, October 5. Invitations to attend the banquet were also extended to E. B. Taylor third vice president; G. L. Peck, general manager; Charles Watts, general superintendent of passenger transportation and A. M. Schoyer, general superintendent of the Northwest system, and each will be expected to respond to a toast if they find it convenient to attend the banquet. Secretary J. N. Robyans reports a number of new members and believes that the coming convention will close with a membership of upwards of 200.

INSPECTION TRIP ITINERARY.

Will Crowd the Trip Into Two Days This Year.

The printed itinerary of the Pennsylvania officials annual track inspection this fall shows that the trip will only consume two days, whereas former inspection trips consumed three or four days. The inspection trip begins at Pittsburg Wednesday morning and the first day the party will pass over the lines between Pittsburg and Coshocton. Coshocton and Loudonville, Loudonville and Lafayette, where the night will be spent. Thursday the inspection will continue to Chicago, passing through Fort Wayne about 9:15 o'clock in the morning. It will end at Chicago where the participants will be the guests of the company at dinner at the LaSelle hotel. Invitations to the banquet have already been received by those who will be members of the inspection party. Included in the list are Supt. W. M. Wardrop, Division Engineer Guy Scott, Assistant Division Engineer A. C. Watson and Chief Motive Power Clerk W. L. Wilt, of the Pennsylvania; Superintendent B. H. Hudson and Division Engineer C. L. Bernaby, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana. Motive Power Supt. T. W. Demarest and Assistant O. C. Wright will make the trip over the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburg instead of over their home lines.

LOOKING FOR STEVEDORES.

Agent Kirkland Goes to Chicago to Hire Men.

Discouraged in his efforts to find in the Fort Wayne labor markets sufficient men to do the work at the Pennsylvania freight house, Agent E. H. Kirkland went to Chicago this morning in search of stevedores. He hopes to be able to secure twelve or fifteen men in that city and will bring them back with him if possible. Mr. Kirkland is not alone in the shortage of help. Every employer of labor in Fort Wayne is looking for men and particularly the railway shops.

OLD VETS GET RATES.

The local body of the Union Veteran Legion are in receipt of news of a special rate from Cincinnati and other points south of the Ohio river to Chattanooga, Tenn., on the occasion of the national encampment of the league at that city October 15, 16 and 17. The rate will be one and one-half cent per mile from the Ohio river points, but it will not be below two cents per mile from points north of the Ohio river. The Army of the Cumberland will hold a reunion at Chattanooga also on the dates named and it is believed that there will be a number of veterans from this section go to Chattanooga to attend these events.

CHANGE FOR FRANK W. MORSE.

A current rumor in railroad circles is that Frank W. Morse until recently vice president and general manager of the Chicago & Alton, is slated for an important executive office with one of the big western roads. Mr. Morse is well known in Fort Wayne where he occupied the position of master mechanic of the Wabash from 1889 to 1896, going that year to the Grand Trunk as superintendent of motive power and subsequently becoming vice president of that great system. He is recognized as a top notch operating man and is regarded as one of the brightest young railroad men in the country.

THE DECATUR SHOPS.

Local Wabash employes are wondering what effect the big locomotive works the company is building in Decatur, Ill., will have on the work in the shops in this city when the new plant is up, equipped and in operation. The Decatur papers say the new shop will be 160x1118 feet in dimensions, constructed of steel with concrete foundations and brick wall; have three tracks inside so arranged that crippled engines can go in at one end and go out after receiving repairs at the other end of the shop. The plant will have a capacity for rebuilding fifty engines per month.

FOUND DEAD COW ON PILOT.

When the engineer on eastbound passenger train No. 2 of the Wabash dropped out of the cab at Lafayette and walked to the front of the locomotive to investigate the cause of the electric headlight being extinguished a half hour before, he found the carcass of a cow on the pilot. The animal had been picked up at a point between Riverside and West Point, for it was there the light went out. The engineer did not see the cow before his engine struck it and did not feel the force of the blow.

SIXTY-SEVEN TODAY.

The mail this morning brough to R. J. Fisher reminders in the shape of congratulatory cards that he was sixty-seven years old. The cards came from Mr. Fisher's friends in other cities and each bore evidence of high esteem for the veteran car wheel salesman. In his capacity as salesman for the Bass Foundry and Machine company Mr. Fisher has traveled a great deal and is known in every important railway city in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

NOW EMPLOYED AT OAKLAND.

William A. Vore, chief wireman for the municipal lighting plant at Oakland, Cal., is spending a vacation in the east. He arrived here yesterday and will remain until tomorrow, when he will go to Pittsburg and thence to Toronto, where he will spend a part of his vacation. Mr. Vore was employed in the Fort Wayne Electric works fifteen years ago and is well known at that factory, where called yesterday.

EYE CUT BY STEEL CHIP.

Machinist J. P. Breihoff, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, suffered a painful injury to one of his eyes last night. He was engaged in chipping a locomotive frame, when one of the steel chips flew into the optic and cut the eye ball. Dr. R. Parks White attended the wounded man.

CASHIER STAPLEFORD RETURNS.

Albert E. Stapleford greets patrons at the window of the cashier's office at the Nickel Plate freight house again, after an absence of two weeks. He had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stapleford, in Colorado Springs, Col.

HURT BY RUNAWAY MOTOR.

A motor which was being operated in running a reaming machine at the Pennsylvania erecting shop yesterday, got beyond control of M. J. Crowe and threw him against a pile of iron bars. It was though that he had sustained a fracture of the ribs, but Dr. Stemen who attended the unfrotunate man, says hat his injuries are only bruises and are not serious.

INSTALLING GRAVEL SHOVEL.

Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, Carpenter Foreman John Danes and Perry A. Thompson, of the Wabash, went to Attica, Ind., this morning to assist in putting the big steam shovel in operation in the gravel pit at that place. When about ready for operation the engine which drives the machinery blew out a cylinder head and caused further delay.

GOING TO NEW BRUNSWICK.

C. A. Dunkelburg, of S. F. Bowser & Company; C. A. Wilding, of the Tri-State Trust company, and Attorney W. J. Vesey are en route for Clarendon, N. B., where they will spend two or three weeks in shooting moose, bear and other large game. They left at 5 o'clock last evening over the Wabash.

FOOT BADLY BRUISED.

Machinist Ed Dunlap, employed in the arc lamp department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, will be off duty a week or more. Yesterday a heavy piece of metal fell upon one of his feet, bruising the member badly but not breaking any bones.

TRAIN LOAD OF IMMIGRANTS.

A train load of immigrants running as the second section of No. 3, on the Nickel Plate, passed through the city last night. The foreigners were chiefly agriculturists and will settle in the farming territory of the northwest.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

J. J. Ohse and A. F. Kraft, helpers, resigned positions at the Pennsylvania machine shop yesterday.

Frank Kohler, over and short clerk at the Nickel Plate office is spending a vacation in Buffalo, N. Y.

Peter Lepper who has been sick a week, resumed work at the Pennsylvania planing mills this morning.

Martin Lepper, Charles Hess, C. A. Scott, L. B. Haslup and William Lerch, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Machinist Art Smithers, who had a finger crushed two weeks ago, reported for work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Mrs. Jacob Sonnen, of Grand Rapids, who came here to attend the funeral of her brother, J. J. Hontheim, for many years the pump house man for the Wabash, left for her home this morning.

Julius Cochran, the crossing watchman who was killed in Decatur, Ill., last Friday was a brakeman on the road many years before he became too old to follow that work. Then he was given the lighter work. Cochran was seventy-two years old.

George Horner, Adolph Foellinger, Glenn May, J. B. Brames, Harry Drage and Charles Clawson compose the bowling team from the ranks of the employes of the General Electric company's lamp works. This team expects to "do things" this year.

Thomas D. DeVilbiss who last Saturday returned from an extended trip along the Atlantic coast in the interest of S. F. Bowser & Co., left this morning for Memphis, Tenn., to look after some business matters that will occupy a week. So far this year Mr. DeVilbiss has traveled 25,000 miles and been in twenty-four states. He reports the most prosperous season of his connection with the Bowser company.

In an illustrated notice of the Pennsylvania company's air brake instruction car yesterday the Sentinel omitted mention of the fact that the excellent photograph from which the half-tone cut of the interior of the car was made was the work of Henry E. Heine, a clerk in the store room at the Pennsylvania shops. Mr. Heine says he is an amateur photographer, but his pictures are as good as the best made by the professional photographers.

Walter Niemeyer, clerk for Foreman George A. Szink, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is taking a three days' lay-off. His brother, Louis C. Niemeyer, a moulder at the Bass foundry will be married at Bremen, Ind., tomorrow to Miss Bertha Heinke, the daughter of a well known and wealthy retired farmer, and Walter will be the groom's best man. The bride will be attended by her sister. The groom has fitted up a house on Pontiac street, where he will take his bride after the wedding trip.

Next Thursday J. C. Traxler, one of the young men employed in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, will become a benedict and as a sort of farewell party, his shopmates gave him a surprise Sunday night, when they assembled at his home and presented him with a Morris chair. In the party were: Al Johnson, Harry Starke, Henry Wellman, Allen Peterson, Al Hoffman, William Koehlinger, Riley Hughes, C. H. Guise, Fred Weberreuss, S. Weigman, Frank Hausbach, B. Trautman, Henry Starke, G. Bachelder, J. Williams, A. Scheumann, Theodore Starke, Floyd Allen and Jack Gillie.

ASKS ROOSEVELT TO DATE ISSUES

Bryan Says Democrats Were There Before Him on Good Ones.

T. R. IN OLD MISSOURI

Los Angeles, Sept. 24.—William J. Bryan delivered a dozen addresses in Los Angeles yesterday, although only four had been scheduled. For twelve hours the Nebraskan was kept on the go, from one meeting place to another. He first spoke to women democrats at a breakfast they tendered him. An immense crowd heard him at Fiesta park. Before reaching the park he delivered a series of addresses from a motor car. Discussing Colonel Roosevelt and the trusts, Mr. Bryan said:

"Mr. Roosevelt says the trusts have come to stay and he denounces the democrats for wanting to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist. Mr. Roosevelt says 'You must not try to prevent monopoly. Just regulate it. Let it grow and grow; let it merge and merge; let it consolidate and consolidate; but watch it.' My friends, he watched it for seven and a half years and it merged and merged, and when it got to a doubtful point, when it did not know whether it could merge or not it went to him and asked him and he said, 'Yes, merge.'

"Where Mr. Roosevelt's position is good on national issues, the democrats have been there before him. I think it is only fair that Mr. Roosevelt should do with his issues like they sometimes do with eggs; mark the date on them."

SINGLES OUT A VICTIM.

Roosevelt Attacks Man With Banner at Lamar, Kan.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 24.—Gov. Herbert Hadley, of Missouri, in the opinion of Col. Roosevelt as he expressed it yesterday, will join the progressive party in the national campaign.

"I not merely hope, but believe," said Col. Roosevelt, "that Gov. Hadley will yet decide to stand with us."

Col. Roosevelt saw nothing of the governor during his trip through this state. When he went to St. Louis to speak at the beginning of his tour the statement was published that he had received a letter from the governor. The colonel would say nothing about it. Gov. Hadley has already said he soon would make public a statement of his position.

In the crowd at Lamar, Kan., there was a man with a huge banner bearing the words, "We want Taft and let well enough alone." The banner attracted Col. Roosevelt's attention. Bending over the railing of his car, he pointed to the man with the banner and said:

"Any man who supports the receiver of stolen goods stands on a level with the receiver of the stolen goods. He is a dishonest man and is unfit to associate with honest men."

As the train drew out Col. Roosevelt called to the crowd: "Good-by, honest men."

The colonel attacked the republican national committee in his speech at Joplin.

"The republican national committee," he said, "is composed of fifty-three, most of them shady."

"All of them," a man in the crowd shouted.

"Well, pretty nearly all," the colonel said. "There were just about enough of the other kind to have saved Sodom and Gomorrah."

Col. Roosevelt left here for Oklahoma last night.

Mrs. Kickley, wife of Lineman C. N. Kickley, of the Pennsylvania power plant, who has been ailing for some time, left this morning for Richmond, Ind., to take treatment from a specialist.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

Keen Wits For Results

Many foods lack brain-building material.

Grape-Nuts
FOOD

is particularly rich in nourishment.

Besides being well balanced for producing physical vigor, it contains Phosphate of Potash (as grown in wheat and barley) the essential cell-salt used by Nature in building "gray matter" of brain and nerves.

A regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and cream has helped many a person to "be up and doing." And there's comfort in good health.

Very Little Grain Coming Into the City—Prices Unchanged.

There is but little activity in local grain centers and prices are unchanged. What little wheat comes into the city is of good quality. The crop is short and farmers appear to be holding it for better prices. The same inactivity characterizes other grains. On the produce market there is but little doing this week and prices remain stationary. The Barr street market this morning was not as large as usual on Tuesdays. Eggs were "as scarce as hen's teeth" and the prices, 26 to 28 cents.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 24.—Snow and rain in the spring crop district turned wheat upward today despite lower cables. Prominent firms were conspicuous on the buying side. December opened at 91¾c to 91¼c and then rose to 91½c.

The close was nervous, ¾c higher for December, at 91½c.

Corn showed firmness on account of the freezing temperatures with a prospect of more. December opened at 53⅛c to 53½c, and mounted to 53⅝c.

The close was unsettled with December at 53⅜c, a rise of ⅛@⅜c net.

Hardening of the oats market developed in consequence of the strength of other grain. December started at 32¼@32⅜c, and touched 32⅝c.

Provisions held steady with hogs. First sales with January were $18.10 for pork, $10.55 for lard and $9.77½ for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 24.—The tendency of the stock market at the opening today was downward, although recessions did not go beyond fractions. Some weakness was shown by Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, St. Paul and American Sugar. Coppers moved irregularly.

Trading was fairly large approximating 200,000 shares in the first hour, but much of the business was transacted at price concessions. Reading, which was again under pressure, was the only leading issue to vary a full point, but Union Pacific yielded a substantial fraction. Steel preferred, Colorado Fuel and a few specialties rose 1 to 2 points. Call money was to 3 per cent before noon. Bonds were steady.

The market closed strong. The market recovered from its apathy in the final hour, when the high level of the day was attained by all important issues. Amalgamated and Anaconda advanced to highest prices since 1910 and Steel rose to its best of the year. There was also a brisk demand for Reading and Union Pacific.

NORTH-SIDERS TO MEET.

Will Further Effort for New Bridges on Wednesday Evening.

The North Side Civic Improvement associaton will hold an important meeting on Wednesday evening, Oct. 2, to further the plans for the building of bridges over the St. Mary's river at Bartholdt and Harrison streets, and for straightening the channel of the river in Bloomingdale. The committee in charge of the proposed improvements will ask the city to make the improvements. The residents in that section of the city have given their consent to an assessment only as a last resort. They say that the improvements will be a great benefit to the city in general and that the tax levy should be raised to meet the expense. The committee also will urge the city to start the improvements as soon as possible so that the streets may be opened by next summer.

C. F. Pfeiffer and Mrs. Peter Certia, who own the property on the north bank of the river and between the railroad, have given their promise to donate the right-of-way for the streets through their property. One of the firms in the section has promised to donate $5,000 toward the erection of the Harrison street bridge, and is exceedingly anxious to have the street opened.

SCHEME TO BEAT LAW OF INDIANA

Chicago Race Track Gamblers Have Evolved a New System.

BY PROGRAMME BETS

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Plans for a three days' "clean-up" of patrons of the Mineral Springs race track at Porter, Ind., were made yesterday by the syndicate of Chicago gamblers which will have full charge of gambling at the new course, which opens Oct. 12.

Practically no money will change hands at the track, although persons desiring to make wagers will have every opportunity to do so. Duplicate programs will be issued on which both the patrons and the bookmakers will keep a record of bets made and received, so there will not be much opportunity for dispute.

All bets made at the track with Chicago bookmakers will be strictly "cash in advance;" no "markers" will be taken. Plans for this have been worked out. "Ben" Hyman is credited with devising the scheme.

To guard against patrons "welching" on wagers made with handbook men bettors will be required to purchase "certificates" from the gambling clique. These may be likened to letters of credit, as they will permit holders to wager any amount up to the maximum called for by the "certificate."

Identification by Pencils.

It is planned to have ten or twelve bookmakers at the new track. These men will carry lead pencils of different colors. When a patron displays his "certificate" any of the bookmakers will show him what "odds" are being quoted, so that a wager can be made.

The programs are in duplicate, the bookmakers keeping one and the patron the other. Both programs are marked with a pencil, the recording being done by the colored lead pencil method. The color of the pencil identifies the bookmaker.

On each of the programs is a chart containing figures from 1 to 50. This is in three sections, so that a patron can make a wager, "win," "place" or "show," on any horse entered in a race. The amount of the wager is recorded by "punching" or "ringing" a figure or any combination of figures to make the amount of the wager.

Results Figured Each Day.

After a day's racing the patron's winnings or losings are figured up and he may "draw down" his winnings, if he has any, each day, by going to the Chicago office of the gambling syndicate, or if he made losing bets he can reestablish his "credit" by buying another "certificate" or by depositing enough money to cover the amount of his losing wagers.

For some mysterious reason the syndicate figures that it can operate for only three days. The details of the new scheme have been submitted to lawyers well equipped to give an opinion on the gambling laws. The lawyers are said to have declared that the plan is "safe" and that the authorities of Illinois and Indiana cannot show proof that gambling was done, because it was not entirely carried on within the borders of either of the states in question.

About the only way the necessary proof could be obtained to convict any of the handbook men, one of the opinions is said to have stated, is for the authorities of the two states to co-operate in an effort to have a representative purchase one of the "certificates" and then make wagers by means of the "certificate" at the race track.

Difficulties in Way.

As it is intended to issue the "certificates" only to persons who are known to be "right," it is expected to be a difficult matter to have a city or state official buy one of the "letters of credit."

As the matter now stands it appears that the only way the proposed operations of the gamblers can be curbed is for the authorities of Illinois and Indiana to co-operate, so that if a case is tried in the courts it can be shown that a wager was made in Indiana and that the transaction was completed in Illinois.

W. A. Smith, Bridgeton, Ind., is telling his friends and neighbors of his return to health and strength by the use of Foley's Kidney Pills, and he says he wants others to benefit also. "I was so crippled with rheumatism I could not dress without help, and had kidney trouble for years. I started using Foley Kidney Pills and now all my trouble has left me and I do not feel that I ever had rheumatism. I rest well at night and though 59 years old, can now do the work of a man of 35 years. I would like to be the means of others getting benefit from Foley Kidney Pills.—Dreier Drug Co.

OFFERS CRIPPLED LEG TO SAVE GIRL

Bill Rugh, Gary Newsboy, is Willing to Make the Sacrifice.

ALL WORLD HIS "PAL"

Gary, Ind., Sept. 24.—All the world has been "pal" to Bill Rugh, the crippled newsboy of Gary. It usually has been a hard one, but somehow he has retained his optimism, and his heart was touched when he heard that death might claim another man's sweetheart unless some one supplied a few square feet, more or less, of human skin.

That is why Rugh offered to undergo a dangerous surgical operation and sacrifice his crippled leg, that the skin might be grafted on the limbs of Ethel Smith, 18 years old, a Gary girl, who was burned almost to death during a motorcycle ride with a boy companion.

Rugh stood by his news stand during the rush hour last night and between hails from hundreds of passers-by, whom he knows only as "pals" told all about it.

Tells How Pity Moved Him.

"You see, a cripple's life is kind of lonely, usually," he explained, "but somehow I have come to know all these folks who buy papers of me. They always have time for a good-natured hello, and I sort of love them—I guess that's the word. 'Here, pal, here's your paper.' 'Well, pal,' etc. resumed, "when I read about this girl's getting burned while she was riding on a motorcycle with Roy Roberts. It turned out that Roberts must be one of my customers, or my pals, and I thought how bad I'd feel if my sweetheart was burned like that. So I decided to give 'em my leg. It doesn't do me any good. I have to use a crutch anyway. I've carried that leg around for forty-one years and if it will help them they can have it."

Girl, Told of Offer, Weeps.

Rugh landed in the steel city two years ago after traveling over the greater part of the United States. He has the prize stand in Gary, at Sixth avenue and Broadway, and sells from 1,200 to 1,500 papers daily. He has money in the bank and dresses as well as the average business man.

One of his associates is "Jim," a deaf and dumb man, and to him Rugh expects to turn over his stand if physicians decide to accept his offer.

Ethel Smith cried when told of the offer. As far as she is concerned it will be accepted. Dr. J. A. Craig, the surgeon who will decide the matter, is expected home tomorrow. He recently married Miss Mary Arnold, a nurse in Gary, and they are returning from an eastern honeymoon.

Limbs Terribly Burned.

Miss Smith, propped up in bed, yesterday told more about the motorcycle ride with Roy Roberts, 21 years old, which all but cost her life.

A spark from the machine's exhaust pipe spread fire to her undergarments. The fire burned slowly and she tried to slap it out with her hands. Unwilling to tell her companion, she did not cry out until her undergarments were all aflame. When they stopped and Roberts attempted to put out the fire. The girl's outer clothing was not damaged, but her limbs were so badly burned that but two narrow bands of whole skin remained. High shoes protected her feet.

Eileen Roberts, a sister of the girl's companion, is her nurse. The young man is a nightly caller at her bedside. Between the sister's ministrations and the cheering words of the boy the patient is kept alive awaiting the return of the physician.

Then, in all probability, Bill Rugh's offer will be accepted.
